MISSIONARY.

American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

A Memorable Gathering.

THE TOILS OF THE YEAR IN REVIEW.

The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions commenced its sixtieth annual session in the Third Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue, yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. This body is composed of about two hundred active members, who constitute the corporate body, and only have the power to vote and finally decide upon its deliberations. Connected with it are some thousands of honorary members, who have the privilege of taking part in all the deliberations except voting. The Board is supported by the Presbyterian and Congregationalist churches, about five thousand in number, throughout America, who thus unite in prosecuting the work of foreign missions. The first meetings sixty years ago were held in private parlors, and from this small beginning the interest in the Board has increased until, now, the largest audience rooms in the country are sometimes not sufficient to contain those who desire to be in attendance.

The sixtieth session opened yesterday, and promises to be one of the largest and most interesting of any in the previous history of the Board. A large number of delegates have already arrived, and every train coming into the city is increasing the number.

THE ORGANIZATION.

At the appointed hour the meeting was called to order by Rev. Mark Hopkins, D.D., LL.D., President of Williams College.

The following officers of the Board will officiate at the present meeting:

President—Mark Hopkins, D.D. LL.D.

Vice President—Hon. Wm. E. Dodge.

Prudential Committee—Charles Stoddard, Esq.; Nehemiah Adams, D. D.; Augustus C. Thompson, D.D.; Walter S. Griffith, Esq; Hon. Alpheus Hardy, Hon. Linus Child, Rev. Albert Barnes, Robert R. Booth, D.D.; Abner Kingman, Esq.; James M. Gordon, Esq.; Rufus Anderson, D. D. LL.D.; Ezra Farnsworth, Esq.

Corresponding Secretaries—Rev. Selah P. Treat, George Wood, D.D., Nathaniel O. Clark, D.D.

Recording Secretary—Rev. John D. Means.

Treasurer—Langdon S. Ward, Esq.

Auditors—Joseph S. Ropes, Esq., and Thomas H. Russell, Esq.

The exercises were opened with a fervent and impressive prayer by Rev. Dr. Spring, of New York.

Rev. Wm. M. Cheever, of Terre Haute, Indiana, was appointed assistant Recording Secretary.

The minutes of the last annual session were read and approved.

THE HOME DEPARTMENT.

Rev. Dr. S. P. Treat, Chairman of the Committe on Home Department next read the following report:

HOME DEPARTMENT.

OBITUARY NOTICES.

Four Corporate Members of the Board, a smaller number than usual, have been removed by death since the last annual meeting, to wit:—William W. Chester, Esq., elected in 1838; Silas Aiken, D. D., elected in 1839; Swan L. Pomroy, D. D., elected in 1843; William Ropes, Esq., elected in 1852.

MISSIONARIES SENT FORTH.

It is with devout thankfulness that the Prudential Committee announce the sending forth of larger reinforcements to the various mission fields within the past year, than have gone abroad in any one year since 1856. The following names have been enrolled for the first time, among those whom the Board will be happy to recognize henceforth as its "fellow workers unto the Kingdom of God" to wit; Rev. Henry P. Page, Mrs. Mary A. Page, Rev. Riggs, Mrs. Sarah H. Riggs, Miss Ursula E. Clark, Miss Flavia S. Blgs, Miss Della Griswold, Miss Minnie C. Beach, of the Western Turkey Mission, Rev. Henry Marden, and Mrs. Mary L. Marden, of the Central Turkey Mission: Mrs. Helen P. Barnum, Rev. Theodore L. Pond, Mrs. Julia H. Pond, Geo. C. Reynolds, M. D., and Mrs. Mattie W. Reynolds, of the Eastern Turkey Mission; Mrs. Harriet E. Jessup, Miss Eliza D. Everett, and Rev. James S. Dennis, of the Syria Mission; Rev. Spencer R. Wells and Mrs. Mary Wells, of the Mahratta Mission; Henry K. Palmer, M. D., Mrs. Flora D. Palmer and Miss Carrie Hartley, of the Madura Mission; Rev. William E. DeRiemer, Mrs Emily DeRiemer, Miss Maggie Webster, of the Ceylon Mission; Miss Adelia M. Payson, of the Fuh Chau Mission; Rev. Chester Holcomb, Mr. Oliver C. Holcomb, Rev. Joseph S. Whiting, Mrs. Sady E. Whiting, Rev. Davello Z. Sheffield, Mrs. Ella W. Sheffield, Rev. Daniel McCoy, Mrs. America H. McCoy, Mr. Gilbert F. Holcomb, Miss Mary A. Thompson, of the North China Mission: Miss. Julia A. Lafromback, of the Dakota Mission.

Two brethren, who were formerly stationed in the Tamil field, but subsequently returned to the United States, and were released from their connection with the Board, have enlisted in its service a second time. For reasons bearing upon the question of health, however, it has seemed advisable to assign them to new fields. Hence Rev. George Ford and Mrs. Ann J. Ford have taken charge of a station among the Senecas, and Rev. Milan H. Hitchcock and Mrs. Lucy H. Hitchcock have joined the Western Turkey mission.

It will be noticed that all our missions in Asia, except the one in Persia, have received reinforcements during the year; that the whole number embraced in the foregoing list is forty-two, twelve of whom were ordained before their embarkation.

The following persons have returned to the fields heretofore occupied by them, after a residence in the United States, longer or shorter, to wit:—Mrs. Martha J. Riggs, Henry S. West, M. D., and Mrs. Lottie M. West, of the Western Turkey Mission, Miss Myra A. Proctor, of the Central Turkey Mission, Henry H. Jessup, D. D., of the Lyna Mission, Rev. Henry M. Bridgman and Mrs. Laura B. Bridgman, of ths Zulu Mission.

AGENCIES.

The committee are happy to say that all the District Secretaries who were mentioned in the annual report last year are still in the service of the Board. As they are laboring at their respective posts with fidelity and success, and especially as their aptitude for their work is expected to increase from year to year, any change would be undesirable. The number of districts, and the distribution of states among the districts, remain the same as it was last year, as the following table will show:

Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, Rev. Wm, Gorham, of Maine.

Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island, Rev. John P. Skeele, Hartford Conn.

New York City, Long Island, Eastern New York and New Jersey, this district is in charge of Rev. George W. Wood, Bible House, Astor Place, New York City.

Central and Western New York, including St. Lawrence, Lewis, Oneida, Otsego and Delaware counties as an Eastern boundary. Rev. Charles P. Bush, Rochester, N. Y.

Pennsylvania, West Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and District of Columbia, Rev. John McLeod, Philadelphia.

Ohio, Indiana and Southern Illinois, Rev. Wm. M. Cheever, Terre Haute, Indiana.

Michigan, Northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, Rev. S. J. Humphrey, Chicago.

It gives the Committee great pleasure to acknowledge the value of the services rendered in this department by our returned Missionaries. Some, indeed, are able to do but little in this line of things; and it should be an axiom in Missions, that a brother who comes to this country for the benefit of his health, should be allowed to regain it as speedily as possible, in order that he may resume with the least practicable delay his work among the heathen. But if he is able to interest the churches in the subject of Missions by personal appeals, without retarding his recovery, it is eminently proper, as well as desirable, that they should do so; and the Committee always favor arrangements entered into with this intent.

THE MISSIONARY HERALD.

The enlarged circulation of the Herald deserves a formal announcement. The average monthly edition during the past year has been about thirty thousand. This result the Committee ascribe as well to the endeavors which have been put forth to effect a wider distribution of this periodical, as to the various improvements which have been made therein.

It would be pleasant to add that this publication has reached the point of self-support; but the number of those who are entitled to receive it gratuitously is so large that it is impossible to make such an affirmation at the present time. Still, a review of the receipts of the Herald for the past few years show that the income from subscriptions in 1865-6 was $2,658.88; from subscriptions and advertisements, in 1866-7, $12,417.37; from the same sources, 1857 8, $15.114 22; from the same sources, in 1868 9, $17,680.57.

CO OPERATING SOCIETIES.

The Treasurer has remitted to different missions of the Board, in aid of the work which they are doing through the agency of the press, the following sums received from other societies, to wit: From the American Bible Society $6.700; from the American Tract Society at New York $2,400.

EFFORTS FOR THE ELEVATION OF WOMEN.

The two organizations which have been formed, one at the East and the other at the West, in the hope of accomplishing more for the female sex in our various mission fields, has achieved a success which the most sanguine could scarcely have looked for. The elder Board of Missions has received $11,540 25; the Woman,s Board of Missions for the Interior has received $3,339.25, the total being $14,933.50, and contrary to the fears which many expressed a few months ago, the amount which has been diverted from the contributions which are wont to flow directly into our treasury is found to be comparatively insignificant.

It is the purpose of those societies to assume the entire cost of the work which may be done, especially to ameliorate the condition of woman in our mission fields. The influence of a plan so comprehensive and so noble cannot fail to be of inestimable value, if successfully executed, to all who shall become co-workers therein.

FINANCIAL HISTORY OF THE YEAR.

The committee have experienced, in the matter of income, a two-fold disappointment. As strenuous endeavors were required to secure a favorable close of the previous year, and as the constituency of the Board is clearly averse to all special efforts, except in occasional instances, it was hoped that the church would begin at an early day to enlarge their contributions. At the end of the first third of the year, however, it was found that the receipts instead of being greater, were $30,000 less than those of the corresponding portion of 1867-8. Two months later the difference was $33,000, showing an average monthly loss of $5,500. This was the first disappointment.

The problem, therefore, at the end of the first six months was simply this: "With an expenditure, on the one hand, which promises to excel that of the previous year, and with a loss in the receipts, on the other hand, of $33,000, already accrued, how shall we escape an adverse balance which may prove an embarrassment hereafter?" The Committee have stated their objections to special appeals in past years. They regard them, at the best, as a necessary evil. But a heavily burdened treasury has become a still greater one.

The policy adopted in this unexpected emergency has been to request the churches, acting with and through the Board, to make their contributions equal to those of the preceding year; and a few individuals of acknowledged ability and benevolence have been privately informed of the financial prospect, but no urgency has been employed.

It is with peculiar satisfaction that the Committee now speak of their second disappointment. During the last six months of the war, from March 1st to September 1st, they could not avoid serious apprehensions in regard to the ultimate balance. On the 25th of August, the amount required to prevent any indebtedness was supposed to be $80,000; and there were certain reasons for anticipating a much smaller sum. But through the Divine blessing upon the efforts which had been made, the receipts from that time onward were unexpectedly large, so that the balance against the treasury, when the books were closed, was found to be less than $6,000.

To the pastors and others who have been fellow laborers in working out the problem which has just been mentioned, the Committee desire to tender their cordial thanks. To Him, especially, who has all hearts in his hand, and turneth them whithersoever he will, they would ascribe thanksgiving and praise for the deliverance which he has so manifestly wrought!

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The entire income of the year may be stated as follows: From donations, $424,457,96; from legacies, $93,562; from other sources, $7,194,73, making a total of $525,214,95 The expenditures of the year have amounted to $531,661,32. As, therefore, the year commenced with a balance of $520,96 in the treasury, it closed with a balance of $5,925.41 against the treasury. That the debt is no larger, has been owing, in part, to the refusal of the Committee to disburse all the money which was appropriated in October last. They deemed it wiser to contract the expenditures within certain limits than to end the year with a considerable deficit.

LEGACIES.

It will be noticed that this source of income has been unusually productive. The sums received last year were nearly $20,000 below those which have gone into the treasury this year. Indeed, never before in the history of our organization has this item been so large, and it is worthy of mention that Mr. Daniel W. Hall, a generous friend of Missions, residing in Washington, in the District of Columbia, placed $8,000 in the hands of the Treasurer many years ago, and directed that the amount should become the property of the Board after the death of himself or his wife, the right of calling for the interest thereon, in the meantime being reserved. The survivor of the two has departed this life within the year; his gift, therefore, with another sum of $12,812,92 left to the Treasurer by his will, has became available for meeting the disbursments of the year. Adding the $8,000 to the amount of legacies heretofore mentioned, as being a virtual legacy, we have a total of $101,562,26.

These figures furnish the explanation of the fortunate issue of our financial trials. The offerings of the living are $36,802,81 below the donations of 1867 8; and so the Great Missionary, foreseeing this result, has been pleased to induce those patrons of the Board, whom he was about to summon to a higher service, in that disposition of their property which should close forever their earthly stewardship, to remember the heathen. And lo! their thoughtfulness has taken us safely through the vicissitudes of another twelve months. It is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

At the conclusion of the reading of this report, the audience united in singing the twenty-fifth hymn, commencing

"Glorious things of Thee are spoken."

After which Dr. Treat made a brief and pertinent address in review of the work of the Home Department.

The reading of the report was followed by the singing of the sixteenth selection, commencing

"Arm of the Lord awake! awake!"

GENERAL SURVEYS.

Rev. Dr. W. B. Hooker, of Massachusetts, next led the audience in prayer.

GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WORK.

Rev. N. G. Clark, D. D., of Boston, Foreign Secretary, and Rev. George Wood, of New York, then read the report of the General Survey of the Missions, in which it appeared that the past year has been one of sustained general interest and of preparation for the future; with enough of trial and embarrassment at certain points to mark the church militant, and to lead to a new sense of dependence upon the Divine blessing, and with enough of success to cheer the heart and to prompt to new and greater efforts to secure the final victory. Touching reference is made to the deaths of the venerable Rev. Dr. King, representative in Greece, Mrs. Saunders, at Ceylon, and Mrs. Riggs, who devoted so many years of rare sacrificing devotion to the social and religious welfare of the Indian tribes of the Northwest. Seven ordained missionaries have ceased to be connected with the Board. Nine missionaries and three single ladies have come home for rest and recovery of health, most of whom expect to return to the missionary work. Seven missionaries who were at home last year have returned to their missions, and forty-three new laborers have entered upon the work, including thirteen ordained missionaries, two missionary physicians, one lay assistant and eleven single ladies.

They were distributed as follows: to Western Turkey, 10; Central Turkey, 2; Eastern Turkey, 5. Syria, 4; Mahratta mission, 2; Madura, 3; Ceylon, 3; Foochow, 1; North China, 10; Seneca Indians, 2; Dakota Indians, 1. After deducting from the list the names of those now at home who are not expected to return, and of one of the ladies recently married, there remain 352 male and female missionaries connected with the Board, of whom 145 are ordained missionaries, 7 missioary physicians, and 44 unmarried females,—a net gain in all of 20 laborers as compared with last year.

The success of the Woman's Board of Missions is spoken of as highly encouraging.

AFRICA.

The mission in Africa, in Gaboon, from a debilitating climate, the vices without the virtues of European traders, and the intrigues of Romanists, is looked upon as the forlorn hope of the missionary service. Neither has the Zulu mission escaped its trials, but great numbers are becoming intellectually familiar with the truths of the gospel, waiting now for the Holy Spirit to quicken them into life.

The work of Dr. King in Greece has been taken up by his pupils and with them has passed under the care of the American and Foreign Christian Union. Time only can reveal the influence of Jonas King in preparing the way for the establishment of purer faith in that classic land.

ARMENIA.

The three Armenian missions embrace a territory more than half as large as that portion of the United States east of the Mississippi river. It includes a portion of European Turkey on the west, the whole of Asia Minor, and extends to Persia on the east, and Syria and Arabia on the south. The evangelization of this region has been left almost exclusively to the American Board. Sixty-five churches have been gathered—now under the care of 41 native pastors, wholly or in part supported by their own people. To these churches three hundred new members were added on profession of their faith the past year, making an aggregate membership of about three thousand.

The average attendance upon public worship is about 11,000; at Sabbath School 8,000; at the missionary schools and seminaries 6,000. The contributions to various Christian objects during the year amounted to $15,000 in gold, or an average of five dollars to each church member. The sleepless vigilance of the government and the consequent timidity of inquirers have stood in the way of much effort in behalf of the Moslem population. More vigorous efforts are making to press the claims of the Gospel upon the Bulgarians.

SYRIA.

There has never been a brighter day in the history of the Syria mission than the present. The Bible is printed in various attractive editions; the power of priestly tyranny is in a great degree broken; towns and villages long sealed are now open and asking for missionary labor; baptisms have begun to take place among the Druzes; even the Mohammedans are sending their children to schools; several Christian churches have been organized, and the mission has now set apart three of its members to the work of training a native ministry; while in the department of higher education, the college and female seminary in Beirut will accomplish all that Syria will need for many years to come.

PERSIA.

Dr. Perkins has seen a great work accomplished, as the result of missionary toil, since he first entered that field. From 85 centres, and to congregations averaging nearly 2,400 the past year, the gospel is now proclaimed by more than a hundred native helpers, of whom fifty-seven are licensed preachers. More than nine hundred persons have professed their faith in Christ; of whom seven hundred and twenty-two are now connected with the evangelical communion. The Seminaries have educated hundreds of youth, whose influence is seen in the general social and moral elevation of the people. More than a thousand pupils are to be found in the common schools; the press is a power in the land, from which half a million pages (532,400) were thrown off the past year.

INDIA.

The twenty-three native churches in the Mahratta mission give pleasing evidence of increased devotion to the cause of Christ, and are disposed to accept greater responsibility for the evangelization of their countrymen. Some of the native pastors and helpers evince a spirit of true, self-sacrificing consecration. As the result in part, doubtless, a larger number of accessions to the churches are reported than for several years before. Opportunities for labor are multiplying among the women, till now an application comes to the Woman's Board of Missions for aid in the support of ten native Bible women. At Ceylon heathenism dies hard, but it is dying and going away before the march of christianity.

CHINA.

Eleven new laborers have gone out to China during the year, and six more expect to follow in a few months. Thus the pledge at the annual meeting of the Board at Buffalo is in part fulfilled. It is proposed to establish two new stations in North Carolina, and one in the South. The good work is prospering, and with the moral support of Christian nations, the way seems open for the free diffusion of the gospel in the empire.

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

There are now fifty-six churches connected with the Hawaiian Evangelical Association, in which have been enrolled, from the first, 67,600 members. A recent careful revision of church records gives the present membership as 12,497; a reduction on last year's lists of nearly 5,000, notwithstanding the additions of the year. The reduction, now taken note of, has been going on for several years, and marks in part the great decline of the Hawaiian population of the Islands.

NORTH AMERICAN INDIANS.

The Committee rejoice in the endeavors of the present Administration to place the Department of Indian Affairs upon a better footing. It is with peculiar satisfaction that they have seen the readiness with which disinterested and benevolent gentlemen have consented to visit different tribes of Indians, in order to the preservation of peace between the stronger and the weaker races, as also to the introduction of civilization among the latter. It is to be regretted, however, that no Commissioners have been sent as yet to the Dakota. They are a numerous tribe; and while some of the bands, the Santees especially, are anxious to abide in relations of amity with the United States Government, there are others, far away from all Christain influences, most of them, indeed, having never heard the gospel, whose friendly disposition is by no means certain. There are questions of policy, moreover, which have an important bearing upon the public treasury, as also upon the progressive advancement of this people.

Among the Dakotas in whose behalf our missionaries are laboring, the year has been one of prosperity. Fifty-seven persons have professed their faith in the Saviour for the first time, and the whole number of communicants is six hundred and eighteen. The missionaries are assisted in their work by four native pastors, and four native licentiates. A new station has been commenced at the Yankton Agency, by Mr. J. P. Williamson, in order that he may reach a large body of Indians who have never before had a resident missionary among them. Our brethren are desirous of commencing operations at other points; and it is presumed that they will do so at an early day. The need is urgent. The Dakotas are supposed to exceed 30,000, four fifths of whom have never heard the gospel.

Among the Senecas there has been a degree of interest in advancing the kingdom of Christ, which might, perhaps, be called a revival, and a few have joined the church by professing their faith in the Saviour. In other respects, especially among the Cattaraugus Indians, there has been gratifying progress. Rev. George Ford, formerly of the Madura mission, has consented to take charge of Lower Cattaraugus. He entered his new field last spring.

CONCLUSION.

Do our churches realize the greatness of the work, and the solemn responsibilities of the hour? New centres of influence have been taken, new churches organized, new pastors ordained; a larger number of native youth of both sexes are in training for Christian work, more and more of the native churches are becoming independent of our aid, and assuming their proper responsibility for the support of the gospel and its diffusion abroad; and, more than all, the good work everywhere accomplished—a work no figures can measure—is to be found in the vast preparation of the popular mind for the reception of the truth: despair of the received faiths, the conviction that the truth is with us, and must prevail, the undermining and sapping of the very foundations of error and superstition. Never before were there such motives for consecration to the work of Christ, for earnest and well directed efforts to complete the work begun, and never before such occasion for earnest and prevailing prayer on the part of all who look for the triumph of the kingdom of Christ in the earth.

The report was accepted and approved.

The chairman then announced that a prayer meeting would be held in the First Presbyterian church this morning at 8½ o'clock, continuing fifty minutes.

Visitors were requested to hand in their names to the Reception Committee, in the pastor's study, as soon as possible, in order that places might be assigned them.

Adjourned until 7½ o'clock.

Evening Session.

One of the largest audiences ever assembled within its walls, crowded the church last evening, the occasion being the delivery of the annual sermon by the Rev. John Todd, D. D. of Pittsfield Massachusetts.

The exercises were opened with a voluntary by the choir, Prof. Rohbuck presiding at the organ, after which Rev. Dr. Canfield, of Syracuse, New York, read the opening hymn, commencing

"Jesus shall reign wherever the sun
Does his successive journeys run."

which was sung by the audience and choir.

Rev. Albert Barnes, of Philadelphia, followed with prayer.

The exercisos were then continued by the singing of the 26th Hymn:

"Oh where are kings and empires now
Of old that went and came."

ANNUAL SERMON.

The Rev. Dr. Todd then delivered the annual sermon, which occupied about an hour, and was listened to with marked attention by the large audience. The Reverend gentleman took for his text Malachi 1: 11.

"For from the rising of the sun until the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of Hosts."

In a few introductory remarks the speaker touched upon the past trials and difficulties of the Church, through which she had come up victorious, battling generations of men and all superstitions, and ever holding out the lamp of light to guide and direct humanity, and then said the present is the propogating of the Church, and prophecy is its support in its work.

He then reviewed at length the early history of the Church, the patriarchal period—when the great work was simply to keep alive the organization. This was the seed time, or germ of its existence, and all the trials and toils of the patriarchs were directed to prevent the destruction of the charge under their care.

The next was the Levitical period,—the period of the priesthood. The work then was to submit. It was a time of trial of discipline and suffering, but from these came the greatest good. The church was eventually strengthened by these sufferings, purified, and firmly established.

The third period, the prophetic, came next, when idolatry drew her chains closer, and error waged a fiercer battle to subdue the rising truth.

During this period the church was compelled to throw of the last fetter of dotage, to come out boldly and be seperated from the world, and to develop those principles of religious individuality which thereafter made her conquerer. The prophets developed the spirituality of the law, and thus the prophetical was a great advance on the Levitical period. The prophets had a wider field than the priesthood, and were as the Ministers of to-day the teachers of the world.

The prophetical period passed away with the rising of the star of Bethlehem, which was the signal for the swaddling clothes of the infant to be exchanged for the drapery of manhood. Rites and types passed away, and the Christian dispensation arose in the Church.

Under this, three eras were observable. The first embraced the first three centuries, when the status of the Church was settled, and with it what was truth and what was error. The second era was that of the Church and State. The powers of the world now crouched at her feet, and she who at first walked amid trial, and fire and blood and great tribulation, now walked arrayed in silks, and queen of the world. To accomplish this, however, many changes were undergone, and then came the recoil—the reformation which rocked Europe. From this era the Church emerged into the age of propogation through which she is now passing. The propogation of religious truth is the great work of the Church to-day, and the question is whether she will accept the responsibility and dutifully go forward in the spirit of the injunction, to "preach the Gospel to every creature." The work alone can be accomplished with faith and love. Human ignorance has in vain endeavored to employ other agencies, but all have failed.

The speaker continued at some length to consider the special work of the Church of the present day—to spread the Gospel everywhere—and concluded with an earnest and impressive exhortation to greater diligence and renewed consecration in the work.

Rev. Dr. Adams, of New York, next led the audience in prayer, after which the 25th hymn was sung, and the assemblage dispersed.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

The Committee of Arrangements have received letters from over two hundred members of the Board announcing their intention to be present, besides whom upwards of eight hundred visitors from abroad will be in attendance, including the following missionaries: Rev. E. Burgess and wife, from India; Rev. H. Blodgett, China; Mrs. Sarah C. Adams, Zulus, Africa; Rev. W. P. Barker, India; Rev, H. Bingham, first missionary to Sandwich Islands, fifty years ago; Rev. Albert Bushnell and wife, Gaboon, Africa-Mrs. S. N. Bvington, Choctaw Indians; Rev. J. T. Crosette, Fu Chow, China; Mrs. Josephine L. Cofling, Marash; Turkey; Mrs. Lydia B. Dodd, Turkey; Mrs. Susan H. Morgan, Turkey-Rev. E. P. Hastings and wife, Jaffa; Ceylon; Mrs Laura W. Lord, Madura Mission, Ceylon; Rev. C. F. Muzzy, India: Rev. Wm. Potter, twenty-five years a Missionary; Mrs. S. J. Rhea and Miss Mary S. Rice, Nestorian Mission, Rev. James Quick, Jaffa, Ceylon; Rev. H. A. Wilder and wife, Zulu Mission, South Africa; Rev. C. T. White and wife, Madura, South India; Rev. O. P. Allen and wife, Harpot, Eastern Turkey.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME.

The following is the programme for to day's exercises:

Morning Prayer-meeting at 8½ o'clock, in the First Presbyterian Church, on Wood street, between Fifth and Sixth avenue.

Sessions of the Board in the Third Church, at 9:30 A. M., 2:30 P. M. Papers, Discussions, Reports, Addresses. By Secretaries, Members, Committees, Missionaries and others.

Evening meeting also in the First Presbyterian Church. Addresses delivered.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

AN OLD STORY—WITH A NEW MORAL.

BY JULIA WARD HOWE.

Petroleum Cinderella dances with a pretty fellow,
And her pumpkins turn to carriages, her rats to horses nine:
Fate strikes grimly on the dial, with a sound of no denial,
And her satins cease to rustle, and her diamonds cease to shine.

Forth into the chilly darkness, in her solitude and starkness,
Goes the bloom of dissipation, with no lovely fruit behind;
With no strength condensed in meekness, with no holy nature weakness,
With no thorn of resolution, with no after-growth of mind.

Back to vermin shrink her horses, on her pale and ghostly courses;
Rags replace her recent splendors, unadmired her beauty wanes;
She bemoans the mocking fairy who uplifted her unwary
Through a paltry prize of pleasures to a multitude of pains.

A SPECIMEN, said to be an elephant's tooth petrified, weighing seventeen and a half pounds, has been left at the office of the Burlington (Iowa) Hawk-Eye. It was found on Spoon river.

THE New York World says the reason why the pantaloon makers of Boston have struck is because the Woman's Rights movement there has created such a demand for those articles.

A WOMAN came to Lagrange, Indiana, last week and had the records searched to learn whether her husband had not obtained a dissolution of their connubial bonds without her knowledge or consent.

A HOLE in the roof of the Columbus (Ohio) jail, having afforded means of escape to some fifteen or twenty prisoners at different times during the past few weeks, it is hoped that it will now be closed.

THE use of Croton water for street sprinkling in New York being prohibited, because of the scarcity, four steam fire engines have been stationed on the docks to supply the sprinklers with salt water free of cost.

JOHNNY M'KIBBEN, residing at Winterset, Iowa, is said to be the smallest man in the United States. He recently called on Gen. Tom Thumb and Com. Nutt, at Des Moines, but declined an offer of $3,000 a year to travel with the party.

AN inventor of New York is engaged in perfecting a new light, which, so far as it has yet been tested, is said to be infinitely superior to gas or any artificial light hitherto in use. The light given by the method in question is said to resemble daylight.

A BACHELORS' CLUB at Topeka, Ks., offered a premium of $10 to the prettiest unmarried girl at the fair in that city, and selected the editors as the judges. They despaired of giving satisfaction to the bachelors, as each expected his girl to be selected, but awarded the prize to suit their own judgment.

THE New York Episcopal Diocesan Convention adjourned in harmony, without any discussion whatever on Ritualism. The Convention of the Long Island Diocese also finished its labors and has adjourned. The only noteworthy feature of the closing proceedings was a vigorous speech of Rev. Dr. Diller against the canons relating to discipline.

NEW PROCESS IN PRESERVING WOOD.—This, called Beer's process, consists in first submitting the wood to boiling water or steam, to remove the vegetable albumen, and then immersing in a boiling solution of common borax in water. This process renders the wood harder, impregnable to water, vermin proof, and nearly incombustible.

A DROWSY (or drunk) Chicago driver, failing to observe the bridge swung open to allow a tug to pass, drove his horses into the river, on Sunday night. After an hour's search with grappling irons the driver's body was secured, and also the carriage and horses. Whether there were any persons in the vehicle at the time had not been ascertained at last accounts.

THE body of the man found underneath a bridge in Chicago, where it is supposed to have remained for a considerable time, has been identified as that of Stephen Hendries, who served during the war in the first Illinois artillery, and had lost one leg. It is supposed that he had crawled underneath the bridge for protection and accidentally fell into the narrow space where his remains were found.

LOUISVILLE is an orderly city. A young woman, after getting uproariously drunk at a saloon, went out into the street, and stopping opposite a drug store window, broke three panes of glass, lacerating her hands severely in the operation. Then she sat down on the sidewalk, blood from her cuts flooding the pavement, while citizens stood by watching her failing strength until she finally swooned. No police about.

MR. CLAPP, Congressional Printer, in reply to a demand of the Printers' Union that all "copy holders" shall be printers, says: "I have yielded my last submission to the behests of any combination of men, inside or outside of the office, relating to its administration, holding myself responsible only to the government for my stewardship. I cannot respect any attempt outside the Congress of the United States to interfere with me."

AT the Gardiner, Ill., coal mines, on Friday evening of last week, as Ben Harwood, Robert McKinzie, Henry Watts and Edward Sutton were descending the shaft, the wire hoisting rope broke, and they were precipitated to the bottom, a distance of one hundred and eighty feet. Strange to say none of them were killed outright, and two of them, Sutton and Watts, are expected to recover from their injuries.

THE eminent Chinese merchants who were recently entertained by our eastern authorities and men of note, were most shamefully insulted and annoyed, the other night, at the California Theatre, San Francisco, where they appeared in a private box. For twenty minutes, nearly, the performance was stopped by a storm of insulting outcries, the intention of the ruffians evidently being to compel the expulsion of the objects of their unreasonable aversion. The disturbance was finally quelled by an extra force of police. The better portion of the audience manifested their disapproval of this outburst of ignorance and brutal prejudice, and the management was also firm in resisting it.

A CORRESPONDENT of an English journal gives a dismal account of the appearance of Mr. Gladstone, who has been striving to build up his health at the sea shore. The writer says that the three weeks of absolute repose and sea air have apparently done nothing toward improving his health, and that he looks "infinitely more careworn," and seems to possess "even less constitutional vigor than he presented a few days before the close of the session." The correspondent says he has seen Mr. Gladstone seven times since his return to London, and that "the sunken eyes, the pale face, the nervous glance, the shambling gait, the stooped shoulders, the quick, skirking movement, all betoken a nervous system in a high state of tension, and a physical frame in a condition of lamentable exhaustion."

SATURDAY evening of last week the messenger in charge discovered a fire in the car of the American Express Company, on the night express from Erie to Cleveland, and soon found himself in a perilous situation. The ends of the car were crammed with packages, only the small space occupied by him in the center at the doors being left, and the bell rope was passed over the top. The train was whirling along at the rate of thirty miles an hour, and the fire rapidly spreading, filling the car with smoke. He had no possible means of egress to the other cars, or of communication with the occupants, could not signal the engineer, and to open the doors of the car would be but to admit air and give new impetus to the flames. But it became a matter of life or death with him, and opening one of the doors he wheeled an iron safe to the edge and let it drop. It was struck by the steps of the baggage car, and the concussion produced alarming the passengers, the engineer was signalled and the train stopped. The fire was soon extinguished, the safe replaced in the car and the messenger congratulated upon his escape.

ONE of the obscure points of science is the cause of the harmony of colors always observed in flowers. When two colors are found they are generally complements of each other. The wild asters of autumn generally have purple rays and yellow disk flowers. The pansy is yellow and purple, and the blue violet has its stamens yellow and its petals a reddish blue. In fact, yellow and purple generally go together in flowers. A splendid example is afforded by the large Iris Gemarica, the flower-de-luce of our gardens. From the white base of its petals the sap passes into the petals, which become of a gorgeous purple, while the beard of the petals becomes at the tip of a very rich yellow, though the lower part of each separate filament is not of the purest white. What chemical or physical law determines the arrangement of color, if there be any such secondary cause, is not yet discovered. Two French chemists, Fremy and Cloez, say that the tints of flowers are due to cyanin, xanthin, and xanthein. Cyanin is a vegetable blue, which is reddened by acids. A supply of vegetable acid developed in a flower would then turn the blue to rose color, while a scarcely sensible quantity might produce a purple. Xanthin is a yellow from the sunflower, and xanthein the yellow of the dahlia. There probably are other coloring substances. —New York Express.

THE Cleveland Herald says: "We saw in a street car in this city, a few days since, an expensively dressed woman not only tell a stranger to give up his seat, but, upon his doing so, tender him five cents and loudly insist on his taking it. She said 'she was rich enough to pay for everything she had, and didn't ask no favors from nobody without paying for it.'"

MARY HUNT, an aged woman in Fall River, Mass., who has been an object of charity for several years past, died a few weeks ago, leaving $85 in paper money, and silver and gold amounting to five or six hundred dollars, 30 yards English flannel, 16 sheets, 3 shawls, 2 silk dresses, and 8 pairs blankets. She occupied a tenement in Shove's block, where she lived alone, paying at the rate of $5 per month, in eggs, keeping a coop of hens.

ONE of the handsomest and best dressed gentlemen, and a worthy merchant, of New Orleans, whose great personal care of himself and addiction to fine living have procured for him a rotundity which, while it detracts nothing from his good looks, utterly conceals from his own inspection his extremities, recently made his toilet with exceeding care preparatory to taking his accustomed morning walk. Sauntering out he was astonished at persons he met turning their heads and laughing, also at some ladies rushing into their houses screaming, and was unable to account for this singular conduct until an urchin, in response to the gruff inquiry "What are you laughing at, you little scoundrel?" replied, "Why, Mr. D——, you've forgot to put on your pants."

A PHILADELPHIAN, after a year's absence in California, returned home a few days since and found his wife living with one Montgomery Martin. He demurred to the arrangement, when Martin called in a policeman and had him arrested; but the neighbors interfered, secured his release and turned the tables on Martin and the false wife by having them sent to prison.

"THAT was a capital joke of Gov. Geary, of Pennsylvania, in appointing several prominent Democrats to attend the National Commercial Convention to be held in Louisville, Ky., on the 12th of October next. This happens to be the day of the State election in Pennsylvania, and by getting rid of the principal Democratic orators, Geary got rid of just so many influences hostile to his re-election." The "joke," however, is spoiled by the fact that at least one of the delegates appointed is a most ardent and influential friend of the Governor.

ANOTHER murder has been added to the bloody record of Philadelphia, that "ruffian ridden city." On Saturday night last, John Hughes, a respectable citizen, crossed the Chestnut street bridge to his employment at the gas works, and was subsequently noticed with his hand to his breast and groaning, but was supposed to be drunk. Later he was discovered seated on a stone by the side of the bridge, with his hand still on his breast, and further investigation revealed the fact that he was dead. He had been stabbed in the breast, but by whom, or under what circumstances, the police at last accounts had not been able to determine certainly.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and nearly so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October, 5, 1869.

The market was very quiet and dull to-day, and the business in all its varied aspects presents a very gloomy and discouraging appearance. There seemed to be little or no inquiry for crude or refined, either for present or future delivery, and as there is nothing in the business just now, no margin to the manufacturer, the prospects for an immediate improvement are by no means encouraging. The advices from the east are also discouraging, the stringency in money matters having crippled some of the most prominet houses engaged in business, and it was reported to-day, that one firm, heretofore considered exporters, had failed. Here, there is next to nothing doing, and what is worse still there seems to be no chance to do anything; manufacturers cannot sell at present prices, and when the manufacturing business languishes, there is not much show for dealers or any one else engaged in any branch of the trade. It was thought last month that the worst had been passed, and that this month would open up auspiciously; but thus far, we are sorry to state, these expectations have not been realized.

CRUDE.

But a single sale reported, 1,000 bbls at $5,85, on cars at Venango City. Spot or seller this month, is said to have been offered freely at 14¾ without finding buyers; and seller next 60 days, it is said, could have been bought at 14½. Seller all year nominal at 14¼@14⅜.

REFINED.

Also very quiet and weak, though without quotable change. Spot quoted at 31¾; last half October, 32½, and October to December, 32@32¼. Sale 500 each, last three months, at 32½. It is said that there was an offer out to buy a line from October to March, at 32, and that the same party who made the offer to buy, sold a line for these same months recently at 32.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising slowly last evening with five feet in the channel, by the Monongahela marks—forty-one inches reported in the Allegheny at Oil City yesterday afternoon, Weather cool and unsettled with occasional showers.

The Sallie from Cincinnati, was due last evening, and will doubtless be found in port this morning. The Mollie Ebert, is also due from the same point. They are both announced to return forthwith and they are both good boats, well worthy of all the patronage our shippers can bestow on them.

The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, is filling up steadily for New Orleans, and will be the first boat out.

The Belle, Capt. H. H. Sholes, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day.

Capts. Moore and Ackley expect to have the new J. N. McCullough ready for business in about eight weeks. Her machinery is all ready to put up, and a strong force of mechanics will at once be placed at work on her.

Capt. Dozier's new boat will be completed at the Allegheny landing.

—The Lorena is loading at Cincinnati for Memphis.

—The Mollie Ebert left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Sunday.

—Every town on the Arkansas or White River has one or more drummers from Memphis.

—Mr. Rudolph, of St. Louis, owns one-half of Captain McComas' new boat, the Julia A. Rudolph.

—A line of first class steamers between Savannah, Georgia, and Boston, is to be established, to run semi-monthly, or oftener if freights will permit.

—Frank W. Jenkins, a well-known steamboatman, is about to commence the publication of an agricultural and mechanical journal at Little Rock.

—The City Council of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, has passed an ordinance requiring all steamboats to land at the upper wharf, under a penalty of $20 to $100. The landing has been much improved, and the grade to the water's edge is very gradual.

—The St. Paul Dispatch, September 28, says: The St. Croix yesterday morning was within two inches of the flood of 1859, and still rising. The valley of the St. Croix is inundated. On Sunday night a force of sixty men was engaged in endeavoring to keep the St Croix dam from going out.

—Captain Lloyd, T. Bell and Messrs. Wolff & Hynes, of St. Louis, have purchased the interest of one-half in the Cornelia, lately owned by Captain Charles K. Baker. Captain Belt will command the boat in the unclassic waters of the Onachita, pronounced by civilized people Wash-it-aw.

—The Vicksburg Herald, of September 28, says: We are gratified to state that the report, yesterday, concerning a difficulty between Captain J. W. Tobin, of the Paragon. and Mr. Hamilton, were much exaggerated, Captain Tobin having received but slight wounds. The Captain expects in a few days to be at his post of duty.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Sunday, says: We are struck with the contrast in freight rates to points on Red river from St. Louis and New Orleans, respectively. On a barrel of flour from New Orleans to Shreveport it is about as much as the original cost of the article here, while the steamer Ida, now loading at this port, has engagements at $1,75 per barrel to Shreveport, and $2,25 to Jefferson.

—A late Leavenworth (Kansas) paper says: On Wednesday night about 11 o'clock, as the Osage was loading with wood near Barker's Mill, 20 miles below town, two of the deck hands, named Dave Curry and Dave Williams, had a difficulty which resulted in the death of the latter. The boat was almost loaded, and the two men were carrying wood when, according to a witness, Williams said, "Dave, you're a d—d liar," to which Curry replied by a heavy blow with a cordwood stick, which felled Williams to the ground. The other hands came to the scene and found Williams insensible, in which condition he remained till he died, about twenty minutes afterwards on the boat. According to the evidence Curry remained on the boat for some time, but there was no attempt to secure him, and he finally took to the brush. Williams leaves a wife and one child, in poor circumstances.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine Street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay seven per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation, 437 miles long, upon which it is also a mortgage, NOW EARNS MORE THAN ENOUGH NET INCOME TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NEW LOAN. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. Pamphlets, Maps and Circulars furnished on application. au10

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 87⅞.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 130.

IN releasing the Hornet as a Cuban privateer, the Administration have settled the question of the belligerent rights of the insurgents. They are once for all, thus recognized by our Government. We have reason to deplore this as a serious mistake.

IN NOVEMBER the Free Traders will take the field for an earnest and active campaign on this side of the Alleghenies. Public meetings will be held at Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, and other important towns. Speakers eminent not only for their gifts of oratory, but for their special knowledge of commercial theories and the arguments by which those theories are upheld, have been engaged to attend these meetings. The intention is to give a certain direction to public opinion, and then to bring that opinion to bear as forcibly and speedily as possible upon Congress.

The Free Traders are in earnest, and mean to make the most of their opportunity. What do the men whose business interests are directly involved in the permanence of Protection think of doing? Is it their purpose to let the issue go by default, or to meet their opponents squarely before the people, contesting the ground with them inch by inch?

THE REGISTRY LAW.

There is high authority for believing that the Democrats of Pennsylvania, through the skillful but unscrupulous manipulation of their committees, polled at the Presidential election last year over twenty thousand fraudulent votes. Men who were prominent in engineering those frauds have since, in the freedom of private intercourse, confessed not only to participation in the swindle, but to its gigantic proportions. For many years the Democrats have at no time had an expectation of carrying a State election here that was not inspired by plans for polling thousands of fraudulent votes. This is why their representatives in the Legislature have steadily resisted all attempts to secure an honest registry of the voters, and to exclude all others from using the franchise. This explains, moreover, why their representatives on the bench of the Supreme Court have exercised all the ingenuity at their command to find pretexts for setting aside as unconstitutional any registry law that has been enacted. Instead of straining a point, according to legal rules, to correct a shameless abuse, they have availed themselves even of the flimsiest technicalities to extend complete immunity to the rankest offences against the purity of elections, thus endeavoring to sap the foundations of popular government.

Notwithstanding all their malign efforts a Registry law is in existence, and its efficiency is to be tried next Tuesday. By all means, let the experiment be a fair one. No voter ought to be excluded from depositing his ballot. But, it must be borne in mind that no man is a legal voter unless he brings himself clearly within the provisions of such laws regulating the suffrage as may be in force on the day he claims the right to cast his ballot. Attempts will be made, under various pleas, to nullify the law. All such endeavors should be counteracted. Let there be a square and honest expression of the will of the legal voters, and there can be no doubt where the decision must fall.

THE ALLEGHENY MAYORALTY.

The Republicans of Allegheny have nominated ALEXANDER P. CALLOW, Esq., as their candidate for the highest municipal executive office of the city, to be supported at the polls next week. His majority at the primary meetings, over his principal competitor—574 in a total vote of 3,342—is a decisive indication of the present preferences of his Republican fellow-citizens, and is fairly accepted as such in all Republican quarters—by none more heartily than by many of the most active friends of his rival in the primary canvass.

The present Mayor, Hon. SIMON DRUM, now holds his third term of that office. While his first term was still incomplete, he resigned the office and entered the military service of his country, acquitting himself with much credit. Returning home, he was again elected to the Mayoralty, and re-elected at the expiration of that term. Once more a candidate before the primaries of last week, he gracefully acquiesces in the success of his competitor, accepting the disappointment of his own wishes, not as an adverse judgment of the citizens upon the efficient rectitude of an administration which has commanded their universal respect, regardless of partizan preferences, but rather as the not wholly unexpected expression of that popular inclination for rotation in office which is so marked a feature of our electoral institutions. Saying so much, it is not superfluous to repeat that Mayor DRUM'S official career has given the highest satisfaction to the citizens of Allegheny. He has been a vigilant, faithful and discreet officer, of untarnished integrity, and a more than usually ripe judgment. He has enforced the laws and ordinances, administered justice, maintained the peace and upheld, in every particular, the interests and the honor of the municipality with a success which crowns his final retirement from office with the grateful acknowledgments of all his townsmen.

The Republican nominee for the ensuing term, Major A. P. CALLOW, is widely and favorably known in these cities and county. By occupation a pressman, he is in name and in fact a workingman. From Sumter to Appomattox, he followed the flag and kept step to the music of the Union through all the war of the rebellion, enlisting as a private soldier and rising from the ranks by the force of his conspicuous merit. His military career was of the most honorable character, and is so remembered by the host of his friends. Of more than ordinary mental capacity, and with an education superior to the average, there is no question of his complete fitness for the place to which he is now to be called.

The Democracy have nominated a very worthy citizen, Mr. John Swann, for the same office. They talk of him as a "citizens'" candidate"—that being their usual dodge when they find themselves in the popular minority—which always has been, and always will be, their luck in Allegheny politics.

VIRGINIA.

Meeting of the Legislature—Protest Against the Admission of Disqualified Members—United States Senator.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, October 4.—Considerable excitement prevailed in this city to-day over the meeting of the Legislature. To-night both parties went into caucus. The Wells Republicans adopted a resolution to enter a protest on the journal of the Legislature, against the admission of members who had not taken the iron-clad oath. The Walker men, at their caucus, were engaged with nominations for officers of the Legislature, and no mention of a United States Senator was made.

The Walker members of the House of Delegates, adjourned till to-morrow, which is taken as an indication that John R. Crenshaw, a member of the Society of Friends, will be elected Speaker. The only new name presented in political circles for the Senatorship, is Douglas Wallack, of Washington, who is now in this city.

Much excitement was created in political circles to-day by a rumor that Horace Greeley, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Senatorship, had arrived in the city.

Of the members who applied for certificates election, General Canby has refused twenty-seven, on the ground that they were charged with being ineligible under the Fifteenth Amendment. Nine of them afterwards received them upon making affidavit that they were not disqualified.

Tennessee Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, October 5.—The Tennessee Legislature is not yet fully organized, but will be to-day. Gov. Senter, in his message, will recommend the calling of a State Convention to amend the Constitution, and the removal of all political disabilities. He will urge the ratification of the 15th amendment, the modification of the school system, and the payment of the State debt. Nothing has transpired touching his views as to the proper disposition to be made of the defaulting railroads. The Senatorial question continues to excite great interest. Johnson, who is here, is evidently the strong man; his supporters feel sure of his election.

—A telegram from Fort Benton announces the arrival there of a party from the mines in the British Possessions. They report the mines rich, but the Indians very troublesome. They found the remains of three emigrant wagons, captured by the Blackfeet Indians last year, together with the remains of women and children murdered by them.

NEWS BY CABLE.

Battle Between the Government Troops and Revolutionists—Fight Obstinate—Latter Retreat to the Mountains—Sickles Withdraws His Note Tendering the Friendly Mediation of the United States.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SPAIN.

LONDON, October 4.—There has been an interruption of the telegraphic communication between England and Spain during to-day, attributable in part to the storm on the coast, but in main to the cutting of the telegraph wires communicating with various parts of Spain by the insurrectionary forces operating at certain points inward from the shore line in that country.

Latest advices to hand report a batle at Espera Guerra, between the Government troops and the Republican force, mustering 1,100 revolutionists, who retreated to the mountains after an obstinate resistance, during which they lost forty killed and sixty wounded, and had twenty-three made prisoners. The Government troops lost twenty killed and thirty-eight wounded.

The American Cabinet diplomatic difficulty is regarded as terminated. The Spanish Government refuses all offers of foreign mediation, maintaining the position that the condition of affairs in Cuba is a domestic question entirely. Mr. Sickles has submitted to the Madrid Cabinet an official note formally withdrawing the tender of friendly mediation by the United States between the Spaniards and the Island revolutionists.

MADRID, October 5.—The Cortes are discussing the bill suspending the constitutional guarantees during during the insurrection.

A Republican band has been beaten in Murcia. The troops have retaken the town of Reins which had declared for the Republicans, and the authority of the Government is now completely restored at that point.

THE LATE RAIN STORM.

Further Details—Appalling Loss of Life—Immense Destruction of Property—Frightful Rail Road Accident—The Waters Subsiding.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, October 5.—The water at Fairmont dam has receded nearly six feet since yesterday. The streets which were flooded are now nearly dry but covered with mud and debris left by the water. Hundreds of cellars are full, and at the large establishments steam fire engines are engaged in pumping out the water. The turbine wheels at Fairmount will probably resume work this evening.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., October 5.—That portion of Bethlehem, between Lehigh river and Monocacy creek, is under water. An immense amount of valuable lumber has been swept away.

Weireport is completely inundated.

The iron bridge, opposite the Mansion House, at Mauch Chunk, was swept away. Thirty-seven coal barges went over the dam at that point, and were completely wrecked.

Broadway is entirely under water and several houses were washed into the stream.

The booms at White Haven are all broken, and a great number of rafts of timber are floating down. The loss to the lumbermen at White Haven is very heavy.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad, at Catasaugua, is washed away. The Lehigh and Susquehana Railroad will sustain heavy damages, being washed at many points between White Haven and Bethlehem. The canal is washed east of town.

ALBANY, October 5.—The water in this city is still over the docks and the streets parallel with the river. South Broadway is navigated by small boats. Nearly all the basements and cellars east of Green street are flooded.

TROY, October 5.—The flood is unprecedented. The water in the Hudson is eighteen feet above low water mark. Great destruction of property has been done along the Portenkill. In this city the mills have been greatly damaged.

Up north the country is flooded. Three houses were carried away at Mechanicsville, and a woman, named Humphreys, drowned.

A Frenchman at Ft. Ann was drowned while trying to save his horse.

Three men were drowned in the Hudson at this city last night, named James Donnelly, Michael Riley and James Flynn.

There were two accidents on the Troy and Boston Railroad last night. The first was a collision between a freight and express train. Three of the employes were injured.

LATER.

The same passenger train was thrown into the Hoosic river at Hoosic Falls, by a wash on the railroad track, and three lives were lost. The names of the killed are Dr. Fowler and wife, of Hoosic Falls, and Charles Aiken, of Sand Lake. The conductor, H. J. Clark, was seriously injured.

The loss to the West Troy lumbermen by the freshet will reach $100,000.

HARTFORD, Ct., Oct., 5.—Reports of damage by the storm continue to come in. The damage in all parts of the State is very great. The town of Manchester has suffered more than any other place in this vicinity. Not a bridge is left in town, and not a water wheel is running there to-day. The loss to mills, dams and other property is estimated at $30 000. The loss to roads and brides is $30,000.

SARATOGA, October 5.—Accounts from the surrounding country say the storm of Sunday night and on Monday morning did more damage than any ever before known. Scarcely a bridge on the country roads about here has been left in good condition. Great damage was done in Ballston. One boy was drowned.

Cheney & Bros.' loss is $100,000, in which is included one hundred pieces of silk worth eighteen to twenty thousand dollars. At Broad Brook the old factory building occupied as a tin shop below, and a tenement house, was swept away, and a young man, woman and five children drowned. A man was also drowned in the Higganama. The Hartford, Providence and Fishkill Railroad is open to-day to Waterbury, but the breaks between here and Willimantic have not been repaired. The New London Northern Railroad is open from New London to Willimantic, above the latter place. It is impossible to run trains regularly on the Hartford and New Haven road.

BALTIMORE, October 5.—The damage to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is fully repaired.

AUGUSTA, ME., October 5.—The storm has not yet abated. The river is very high and rising rapidly. Every boom between here and Waterville is broken, and the logs are running freely.

LEWISTON, ME., October 5.—The rise in the Androscoggin River is unprecedented. Several millions of logs have gone over the falls. J. M. Thompson, proprietor of the Glenn House, White Mountains, was drowned in his mill, which was carried away by the flood. The farms along the river are much injured.

BOSTON, October 5.—Reports from Maine and New Hampshire represent the storm as unparalelled in severity. In Concord every street was badly washed and guillied, hundreds of cellars filled, and sidewalks caved in. At West Concord one house was carried away. Long Pond rose two feet. At Farnum Crossing the highway was gullied to the width of twenty feet, and a depth of fifteen feet. Nearly one hundred feet of the bed of the Claremont Railroad was washed out, the rails in some instances sinking ten feet. The Montreal road is also reported in a bad condition.

Very little damage was done in Boston and vicinity. A small portion of the roof of the Coliseum was blowd off.

CONCORD, N. H., October 5.—The Merrimac is higher than last spring. No trains from the north arrived, and none left to-day. The culverts of the different roads are badly washed. The trains between here and Boston run regularly.

NEW HAVEN, October 5.—The most lamentable consequence of the flood in this vicinty is the giving way of the great dam over the Housatonic river, at Birmingham. Two weeks' work would have completed the structure. Three hundred feet has been destroyed, and more than half the labor of two years is swept away. One man was drowned.

HUDSON, N. J., October 5.—The flood of yesterday was more extended and disastrous than at first supposed. The total loss of property in one county is estimated at half a million dollars. The town of Claverack suffers most. Among the heaviest losers are Jacob C. Esseltyn, woolen mill; H. J. Rowe, grist mill; Geo. W. Phillips; hosiery mill; N. H. Aiken, knitting mill, Harper M. Rogers, paper mill; D. M. Fetz and W. A. Harden, cotton mill. The loss in the town will exceed 50,000. Jeremiah Carpenter's cotton mill in Valatie was damaged to the amount of $13,000. Alex. Abbott & Co paper mill, same place, suffer to the amount of $4,000. The Messrs. Stabb suffer to the amount of $10,000, and others less amounts.

A large number of cattle and horess were drowned. The devastation of fruit trees is beyond computation. At Columbiaville James Hood and Francis Wadsworth were carried over a dam at Wild's Mill and drowned, yesterday afternoon, while endeavoring to save their property. Communication by regular turnpikes are completely cut off. In some places ravines twenty feet wide and ten feet deep have been cut by the rushing flood.

MILWAUKEE, October 5.—A serious disaster occurred at St. Anthony Falls, Minnesota, this morning, from high water. The tunnel in course of construction under the bed of the river, from Nicollet Island to the East Band river, caved in, leaving the water full course through the excavation. The Summit Mill, capacity of 200 barrels per day, was washed away. Other mills and factories are in danger. Exertions are being made to stay its progress. The damage is very heavy, but the amount has not yet been ascertained.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 5.—The damage by the freshet at Brandywine will reach several thousand dollars. The water was higher than at any time since 1839. The gas works at Jessup and Moore's cotton mills were destroyed. Several cotton factories were injured and the lower part of the city flooded.

SARATOGA, October 5.—There is a canal break at Wilker's Basin, on the Champlain canal. A mill dam gave way and carried off D. Smith's Grist, Saw and Planing Mills and about twenty feet of canal bank with ten feet of canal bed. It will take ten days to repair the break.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., October 5.—The bridge on the East Pennsylvania Railroad, below Ewans', which was washed away, will be repaired to-night, and travel between Reading and Allentown reopened to-morrow. One train came through this afternoon. One of the tracks of the Lenigh Valley Railroad, between Catasauqua and Mauch Chunk, is badly damaged. It is also badly damaged at several places between Allentown and Easton, and will take several days to repair the damage. The passenger travel from New York to Wilkesbarre was resumed to-day, and to-morrow travel will be reopened upon all railroads except the Lehigh & Susquehanna Road, which is badly washed away, and will require considerable time to repair.

BOSTON, October 5.—The embankment at Wilbraham, on the Boston and Albany Railroad, three hundred feet long and seventy feet deep, with a stone arch bridge, has been swept away, and the Boston trains cannot run west of Worcester before to-morrow night.

MANCHESTER, N. H., October 5.—A bridge crossing the Riscataqua river at Gaffstown was carried away last night. The damage by the flood in New Hampshire is estimated at $1,000,000.

POTTSVILLE, Penna., October 5.—The storm damaged none of the lateral railroad to any extent, except the Little Schuylkill, between Port Chato and Tamaqua. Six bridges were carried away, and the track badly washed. It will require three weeks to repair the road, and coal transportation will be suspended during that time. The canal is not badly injured. Three small brakes are reported, which will be repaired in about three days. A number of colleries were drowned out. All the mules in Repplier's mines, at New Castle, were drowned. The water is subsiding in the river.

POUGHKEEPSIE, October 5.—The report of damage by the flood increases. In four counties on the Hudson the loss cannot be less than three millions of dollars. There are several serious breaks in the Delaware and Hudson Canal, including one of two hundred feet and one of one hundred feet. In the interior of Ulster county, bridges and barns were swept away and whole fields of grain destroyed. Nearly every bridge in Greene county is destroyed and farm lands devastated. Reports from Duchess county are also bad. A series of bridges were washed away. The condition of the Hudson River Railroad, north of Stuyvesant, is deplorable. For a long distance the track is covered with water to the depth of eighteen inches. No trains are expected to run trough to Albany to morrow. The road south and as far north as Hudson, however, is in good order.

LEWISTOWN, Me., October 5.—The long toll bridge across the Kennebec at Waterville, was carried away by the freshet this morning. The loss near Waterville by the flood is estimated at $100,000.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5, 1869.

APPOINTMENTS.

The following appointments were made to-day: Gustave G. Jarecki, of Pennsylvania, Consul at Augsburg; Francis Lenon, of the District of Columbia, Marshal of the Consular Court at Hankow, China; Clarimundo Martins, of Porto Praya, Santiago, Cape Verde Island.

MONEY MATTERS.

Disbursements from the Treasury Department during September were, civil and miscellaneous, $5 037,250; War Department, $4,361,159; Navy Department, $2,308,671; Indians and Pension, $1,218,277—total, $12,925,857. The above does not include the warrants for redemption or payment of interest upon the public debt.

DISTILLERS ARRESTED.

Supervisor Presbery, of Virginia, has received andforwarded to the Revenue Department report from one of the squads of the Fifth Cavalry, Capt. Burns, piloted by Collector Wilcox, to the effect that they have seized forty stills and about one thousand gallons of spirits, and arrested thirty-five men found operating the stills.

WILL NOT BE RELEASED.

A private telegram from Wilmington, N. C., is to the effect that the United States officers say it is not probable that the Hornet will be surrendered to the Cuban parties. An official account of the seizure is expected to-morrow, upon which the Government will take action.

SUSPECTED FOUL PLAY.

A report from the Sixth Tennessee District announces the mysterious disappearance of Collector E. T. McGee. Fears are entertained that he has been assassinated.

ANOTHER CUBAN EXPEDITION.

Information has been received here of a Cuban expedition, consisting of 400 men, with abundant war material, which will leave the vicinity of New York.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 4.—The Tribune, of to-day, says: It has been ascertained from authentic sources, and may be definitely stated, that the following are in substance the views entertained by the President, and sure to be carried out by his administration, with reference to the questions involved in the Euturpe case. The shipment of arms and munitions of war to either party engaged in the Cuban struggle is not prohibited. The revolutionists have an equal right to buy and ship arms with the Spaniards. It is upon the fitting out of a naval or military expedition that neutrality laws operate. It is an entire mistake to suppose that the United States officers have ever been instructed to stop shipments of merchandise even though it be in the form of articles contraband of war. The owners and master of the vessel must in all cases take their own risk. But if an expedition, whether of armed men or armed vessels—or if a vessel fitted out and prepared and intended for naval warfare—is started from our ports, then a question of our duty as neutrals, or as a friendly power, arises, and even if we had acknowledged the independence of Cuba, our duty and our rule could be no different until we had directly and publicly espoused one side of the quarrel, by making war upon the other. It must be remembered that we constantly bought arms of England during the rebellion, and no one questioned the right of England to sell to us or the Confederacy. Blockade runners took their own risk of capture, but the Alabama was fitted out as a ship of war, to destroy our commerce. The Cuban Republicans must learn to draw this distinction before complaining of our conduct in this respect. As before remarked, the recognition of their independence will not alter the law.

Horace Greeley, in the Tribune, says he could not accept the Virginia Senatorship, and asks the press to forbear from naming him as a candidate for any office.

The Post learns that Jay Gould to day sent notice to Mr. A. R. Corbin, General Grant's brother-in-law, that unless he settles to-day for the difference in three millions of gold and two millions of stock bought and sold for Corbin, and his associates, legal proceedings will be taken against him. It is claimed that the difference in the transactions which, it is alleged, Mr. Corbin authorized Jay Gould to make for himself and associates, will amount to $500,000. Mr. Fiske, who is understood to be associated with Gould says additional facts will be forthcoming in case Corbin denies the assertions already made by him. The Post also says that Mr. Corbin, who lies seriously ill, is preparing a statement in reply to Mr. Fisk's letter. Its nature may be gathered from the statements of friends who have been in communication with him. These deny that Mr. Corbin ever, from the beginning of the gold speculation, for many weeks to noon of Friday, when the gold market broke, September 24th, had any conversation with James Fiske, Jr., on financial subjects of any kind, either alone or in the presence of others. They deny that Corbin ever authorized or instructed any person, either verbally or in writing, during the same period, to either buy or sell goods or stocks for him or for others. Mr. Corbin's friends say that the letter of Fiske and the affidavits accompanying it, show a deliberate attempt to place Corbin in a false position. Banfield's affidavit shows, they say, when analyzed, that for three months this man was engaged in watching Corbin's house in order to be able to swear that Fisk and Gould at different times actually passed in and out of Corbin's door. They add that during the whole course of the late gold speculation, Fisk was not once invited by Corbin to his house for any purpose, and that, in short, the impression that Corbin was, during the gold excitement, with Fisk is not true. Corbin's friends say it is true both Fisk and Gould have been in Corbin's House. They made various calls there with the pretent or excuse of offering railroad and steamboat acommodations to Corbin's family. It is asserted that one of these call was made by Gould at Corbin's house when President Grant was staying there. It is added that Gould conversed with the President, and asked him some questions abont the general financial policy of the Government. To this Grant, it is asserted, replied that he had told Mr. Bigelow, editor of the Times, in a conversation, all he thought the public needed to know, and that Bigelow had put it all into an article published some days ago, to which Gould might refer. This explains the President's patience with Fisk's interrogating him on the boat, as well as his reference to a previous conversation. The Post says: The above statement, we have reason to believe, contains the views of Mr. Corbin, and will be repeated in any reply he may make to Mr. Fisk's letter.

The Sheriff has appraised the Grand Opera House, attached at the suit of several parties against Fisk, at one million dollars.

The capias in the suit of James Brown & Co., against Fiske & Gould, have not yet been served, the officers yet being unable to find the defendants.

The arguments of the motions and orders to show cause in the suits in which injunctions have been granted against the Gold Exchange, and others which were expected to come up to-day, have been adjourned.

Bishop & Rein, who do business under Fifth Avenue Hotel, to-day reported to the detective police that their store had been robbed of diamonds valued at from twenty-eight to thirty thousand dollars.

The Republican State Committee, who are holding a session in this city, will probably nominate Gen. Robinson for Secretary of State and Mr. Behn, of Buffalo, to fill Gen. Robinson's place on the ticket as State Engineer.

A report that Judge Pierrepont is about to resign the U. S. District Attorneyship is unfounded.

The land wires connecting with the English cable are still down.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Three persons were drowned at Norristown by the flood.

—Senator Morton spoke to an immense crowd at Mozart Hall, Cincinnati, last night.

—The Union Pacific Railroad carpenter and car shop at Omaha were burned to the ground on Monday evening.

—Garrett Baley, mate of the steamboat Flirt, against whom Frank Mooney entered a criminal suit in the United States Court at St. Louis, has been discharged.

—A man named Davis was shot at Omaha, yesterday, by Major Bodus, the father of a little girl of twelve years, whom he (Davis) had infamously assaulted.

—The New York Tribune publishes an alleged authentic statement of the views of President Grant on the Enterpe case. All parties have a right to purchas or ship arms. The Government can only feel bound to prevent the sending out of an armed vessel to make war upon a friendly nation.

—A Washington dispatch states that on the reception of the news that a privateer had put into Wilmington, N. C., and was under the seizure by the United States Marshal, the President called a meeting of the Cabinet, and after consultation it was decided that a privateer could come into the port of any nation under stress of weather and remain twenty-four hours without molestation or detention. She will be allowed twenty-four hours to remain and obtain supplies, and will be released by the Marshal after the expiration of that time, deducting the time she was under seizure.

A Portion of the Cuban Cable Out of Order.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, October 5.—The first Cuban cable is at present unserviceable—the second cable, which comes in at Cojimar, a town five miles east of Havana, commenced working this afternoon, and is now works well. All telegrams have to be carried from Cojimar to Guauabacoa on horses and thence to Havana by government lines.

Connecticut Local Elections.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARTFORD, October 5.—All the towns in the State except Bridgeport, held elections for town officers on Monday. Returns have been received thus far, from only fifty-two towns, of which twenty-eight elect Republican officers, eighteen Democrats, and six are divided.

THOU BRINGEST ME LIFE—LUNG-WORT.

One of the truest and most suggestive ideas can be obtained from the caption at the head of this art cle; for of all diseases which impair human health and shorten human life, none are more prevalent than those which affect the lungs and pulmonary tissues. Whether we regard lung diseases in the light of a merely slight cough, which is but the fore-runner of a more serious malady, or as a deep lesion corroding and dissolving the pulmonary structure, it is always pregnant with evil and foreboding of disaster. In no class of maladies should the physician or the friends and family of the patient be more seriously forewarned than in those of the lungs, for it is in them that early and effeient treatment is most desirable, and it is then that danger can be warded off and a cure effected. In DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE you have a medicine of the greatest value in all these conditions. An alterative, a tonic, a nutrient and resolvent, succoring nature and sustaining the recuperative powers of the system, Its beautiful workings, in harmony with the regular functions, can be readily observed by the use of one or two bottles: it will soon break up the chain of morbid sympathies that disturb the harmonious workings of the animal economy. The harrassing cough, the painful respiration, the sputum streaked with blood, will soon give place to the normal and proper workings of health and vigor.

An aggregated experience of over thirty years has enabled Dr. Keyser, in the compounding of his LUNG CURE, to give new hope to the consumptive invalid and at the same time speedy relief in those now prevalent, catarrhal and throat affections, so distressing in their effects and so almost certainly fatal in their tendencies, unless cured by some appropriate remedy. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is so thorough and efficient, that any one who has ever used it, will never be without it in the house. It will often cure when everything else fails, and in simple cases will cure oftentimes in a few days.

The attention of patients, as well as medical men, is respectfully invited to this new and valuable addition to the pharmacy of the country.

DR. KEYSER may be consulted every day until 1 o'clock P. M. at his Great Medicine Store, 167 Liberty street, and from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 at night.

NOW IS THE TIME

To repair the inroads made upon the physical strength by the heated term which has closed with September. The vitality that has been oozing through the pores in the form of perspiration, for the last three months, requires to be replaced, as a preparative to the cold season which makes such disastrous havoc with relaxed and untoned sytems. The reverse of vigor with which the stoutest man commences the Summer campaign is drained out of him at its close, and unless by some means he acquires a new stock of vital energy wherewith to encounter the shock of a colder season, he may droop and wither like the fall ing leaves whose life-juices are exhausted. If it is thus with the strong, how much more perilous is the condition of the weak and ailing. Their reason must suggest to them, more forcibly than these printed words, the necessity for invigoration, and the world have decided, after an experience of nearly a quarter of a century, that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS embrace such restorative properties as are not possessed by any other tonic and alterative preparation in existence. The importance of resorting to that great RENOVATOR AND REGULATOR OF THE HUMAN MACHINE, at this critical season is as obvious as the light of day. Let all who desire to escape an attack of chills and fever, bilious remittent fever, dysentery, diarrhœa, dyspepsia, rheumatism, hypochondria, or any other of the diseases of which the Fall season is the prolific parent, have recourse promptly to this celebrated preventive and restorative.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 5, 1869.

At the annual meeting of the New York Clearing House Association to day Committees were selected for the ensuing year. Total transactions for the year were $38,527,347,294.42, and the transactions since its organization, a period of 16 years, $2,003,027,558,962.70. The average transactions per day have been $125,688,789.91, being $27,910,917.65 more than any previous year, and the total exchanges $8,689,882,072.42 greater than before. There have been no official statements made as yet in regard to Lockwood & Co., although many rumors were afloat on the street, one of which is that the house may possibly resume business without some of the former partners, injunctions continue to be served on the officer of the Gold Room restraining them from buying in or selling out under the rule gold bought or sold on Friday the 24th ult. The Lake Shore Directors are still in session discussing the finances of the Company, but nothing has been made public as yet, except the the election of Mr. Alanson Robinson as director in place of Mr. Lockwood.

The money market was very easy at 6@7 per cent. Foreign exchange weaker. Prime bankers' bills 109@109¼. Gold firmer; opened at 128⅞, advanced to 130½, and closed at 130. Carrying rates 7 per cent. to flat.

Governments quiet and firm. The rise in gold and exchange has checked the sales of bonds on the part of German bankers, which was the main cause of the increased strength of the market to-day.

Coupons of '81, 19@19⅛; do '62, 19⅛@19¾; do '64, 19@19¼; do '65, 19⅛@19¾; do new, 17⅝@17⅞; do '67, 17⅛@17¾; do '68, 17¼@17⅝; 10 40s, 8½@8⅝; currency sixes, 7¾@8.

State Bonds steady except new North Carolinas which are lower. Missouris, 86; Old Tennessees, 62½; New do, 52⅝; Old Virginias, 49¾; New do, 51; Old North Carolinas, 48; New do, 38¼. The Sub Treasury sold one million of gold to-day at 129 70-100 @130 5-100. The Treasury Department is now transferring gold from the Sub-Treasury in New Orleans to this city by the sale here of endorsed good certificates payable in coin at the Sub-Treasury in New Orleans, which enables the Treasury to make the transfers without risk or expense.

The Post has good authority for saying the liabilities of Lockwood & Co. will be less than three millions.

Messrs. Koopsattler & Co., importers, on Pine street, are reported as having failed.

Stocks during the morning were strong and advancing, and in the afternoon were heavy and lower. Owing to sales to realize profits, the short interest was largely closed up to-day, especially on the western shares, and the purchases by the bears assisted the rise to a considerable extent. The market closed firm but unsettled.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October 5, 1869.

Business generally is quiet, though about as active as can be expected under existing circumstances. Trade is languishing here to some extent in consequence of the discrimination made against us some of the leading railroad companies, and until a remedy is applied no improvement can reasonably be expected. What Pittsburgh merchants want is an equitable and fair tariff of freights, so as to be enabled to ship from here to the seaboard, and to this they are certainly entitled. If a grain dealer cannot sell here, it is very important for him to have an outlet; at present rates he cannot ship—he has no outlet, but is obliged to hold in store or elevator until such time as he can sell to the local trade. Now it is well known that the local trade of Pittsburgh does not amount to much, and that there is not sufficient scope here to afford our dealers any chance to extend their business. It is asserted, and it is no doubt true, that it cost nearly as much to bring a car load of grain from Newark or Columbus to Pittsburgh, as it does from Cincinnati, notwithstanding it is only about half the distance. It is also alleged, and we have no reason to doubt it, that points west of here can ship through to Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York much cheaper, relatively, than can be shipped from Pittsburgh. Now we are aware that some of these companies are obliged to give low through rates, in consequence of competing lines, but at the same time this bears very unfairly on Pittsburgh. Nor is this confined to the grain business alone; all branches of trade are languishing more or less, from this very cause, and it is earnestly hoped that the efforts that are now being made to remedy this matter will be successful.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged—4@4¼ for Soda, and 9 for Pearls.

APPLES—Demand rather better but prices remain unchanged, $1@3 per bbl, for common to choice.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll is in steady demand with sales at 30@33, and even 35—mostly at 30@35. Common and inferior in good supply and dull.

CRANBERRIES—Sales of prime eastern cultivated at $11.50@12,00 per bbl.

CARBON OIL—There is still considerable inquiry both from the West and South, and standard brands may be quoted at 28@28½ for round lots, and 29@30 in a retail way.

CHEESE—Sales Hamburg at 15; Factory at 16; and Goshen at 17@18.

EGGS—Unchanged—21@22.

FEATHERS—Dull; quoted at 80@85 cents to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The market is very quiet, and while prices are unchanged, the tendency is downward. We continue to quote winter wheat flours at $6,50 to $7 per bbl.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet—but little in market; we continue to quote at $1,25@$1,30. Oats cannot fairly be quoted above 48—buyer furnishing sacks: small sales at 51@52. Rye is dull and drooping, with sales at $1,05@1,08—some of the distillers do not want to pay over $1, though they cannot buy at this figure as yet. Corn is in limited supply, and steady but unchanged—prime yellow, $1,00. Barley is in rather better demand and stronger, though buyers generally are not inclined to go above $1,25@1,30, for prime. The arrivals thus far have been very light, and as we have already noted, most of the crop in this section of the country is more or less stained, caused by the rain in harvest, and this detracts from its value and damages its sale.

HAY—May be fairly quoted from country wagons at $ 5@20 per tun, for common to strictly prime timothy.

HEMP—Very dull, $205 per ton.

HUSKS—Sales at 2¾@3 cts per pound.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland white lime at $1,75 per bbl.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1, at $1,43@1,45, and No. 2, at $1,05@1,08.

ONIONS—Scarce and firmer, with sales at $3,50@3,75 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Firmer and higher. Shoulders, 16¾@17; Ribbed Sides, 20; Short Ribbed, 20½; Clear do, 21; plain Sugar Cured Hams, 22½; Cavassed do, 24. Mess Pork, $33@33½. Lard, 20¼ in tirces, 20½ in ½ bbls, and 21 in kegs. Dried Beef, 22.

PEANUTS—None in market.

POULTRY—Sales of chickens at 55 to 65 cents per pair.

POTATOES—Sales of prime Jersey sweets at $5,00@5,25 per bbl.

SEED—Flaxseed is in demand, and the mills are paying $2,20@2,25. Small sales of timothy seed at $4,25@4,50. No demand for clover seed.

SALT—Is firmer, with sales of car load lots at $1,85 per bbl.

STRAW—Sold in Allegheny market at $12 per ton.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, October 5.—The dead lock in Wall street in monetary affairs has brought the dry goods trade to a stand still and the market is therefore depressed and languid. A line of Passe style of Amoskeag prints have been closed out at 11½c: Lancasters have fallen off half a cent, and all other makes will ere long follow. Atlantic A Sheetings are down 1 cent to 16: Clarks, 16c; Indian Head, 16c; Great Falls E, 15½c; Pacific A and H, and Atlantic H, 15½c; Appleton and Stark A, 15½c. These are the most important changes to-day, but this reduction must effect the price of all brown cottens. The woollen trade is also dull, and where goods are not sold at a concession the time is being extended.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5.—Flour dull and weak, Western Superfine $5.75@6.25, extra $6@6,75, family $7@7,50. Wheat steady, red $1,40@1.46. Corn dull, Western mixed 99c@$1. Oats dull, 58@60c. Rye $1,10@1,20. Mess Pork quiet at $33; bacon firm, rib sides 20½c, clear rib 21c, shoulders 17½@17½c. Lard quiet at 19@19½c. Whisky sells freely at $1,22,

The Latest Styles for Fall and Winter

There are some serviceable and pretty suits on view, which, it strikes me, are the very models needed for Northwestern temperatures. The material is the new satin-faced serge, or drap de tete, an all wool goods, twilled fine as cashmere, but the thread more tightly twisted, so that the appearance is like satin jean with a slight gloss. The fabric is as heavy as ladies' cloth, and as it is so fine, must be very warm, for it is a fact you may remember in buying shawls and boys' clothing as well as dresses, that the finer a wool material is the more warmth it has, for the close fabrics keep the heat in while the coarse open ones let it escape.

The first suit is navy blue serge made in jaunty nautical style, with gold braid and small buttons for trimmings. The skirt has one deep flounce in triple pleats, above which the cloth is looped in five narrow folds held by buttons on each seam, so forming a heading to the flounce. The pleats must be caught by a few stitches at the back to keep them even. The flounce is held by a small cord of navy blue twisted with gold thread. The buttons are half an inch across, and have blue cloth centers with broad rims of gold. The navy jacket is double-breasted, with double rows of buttons on the front, and epaulettes of gold and blue, frogs on the sleeves and buttons on the collar in true midshipman style. The upper skirt falls behind in two broad pendants, while the front is a round apron slightly looped at the sides and trimmed by a fold, cord and buttons.

The second dress is rich purple, and indeed a suit of this kind is only second to rich silk in effect. This suit is made for service, and the trimming is Hercules braid, one row of wide and two of narrow braid above, crossing at the corners in Greek pattern. There is a jacket and two skirts, the apron gathered up at the sides, two broad, square, separate wings falling at the back, with a full pleating above them, three-eighths of a yard deep —like a panier loosed from its lower seam. The jacket is deeper than the sailor shape, and is close in the throat, but hangs close like one, and is open to the belt on the seams and centre of the back, and trimmed round the edges. A square lapel, five inches wide, with corners turned back to show the lining, hangs from the neck instead of a collar or hood. A plain high bodice is worn beneath. The lower skirt is trimmed with three straight rows of Hercules braid.

A mode colored merino very fine and soft is a model for matronly ladies who desire a quiet, comfortable style of dress. The single skirt has three narrow flounces in side pleats, each two inches above the next, headed by a French fold of the merino. The overdress, or redingote, is edged by a single flounce of the same kind, and a fold up each side of the buttons in front. A deep ruffled cape falls over the arm like a sleeve, and is looped up to the belt in the back by a rosette of merino loops, stitched through the centre; a pointed collar piece falls like a reminder of a hood behind. I wish every one could see this quiet, lady-like suit, with its plain redingote and comfortable deep cape falling behind, but not covering the breast. It would be better to leave the collar piece, and wear a broad navy collar of lace, or silk.

The fashion is to wear these enormous pieces of muslin or lace, shaped like a yoke or a sailor collar, over black silk dresses for the street. It is pretty with these, and suits all but young ladies for the house. Fichus of clear ruffled muslin are adapted for the house with any dress, and for sunny autumn days the most charming toilet possible is a ruffled overdress of white organdy above black silk, or even nice alpaca, with a plaid or Roman sash, a tartan of raw silk, or one of the soft silk scarfs of the summer may be bound across the shoulder.

A suit of brown ladies' cloth, of the dark shade known as "burnt bread," has a narrow flounce, say four inches, in hollow pleats, headed by three-inch wide bands of the cloth bound with black satin, placed an inch apart. The wrap is a Metternich cape, rounding over the sleeves, with mantilla fronts belted by a band of the cloth passing through the side seams, and finished behind with short square tabs and loops headed by a hollow pleating.

An elegant suit is Armure silk, that fine pearly tint known as Egyptian gray, with an overdress of hair stripes in black velvet and gray silk, having a beautiful changeable effect. The skirt has a flounce headed by a puff piped with the dark velvet stripe; the mantilla fronts are edged with black guipure, and a narrow pearl gray puff with a strip of the ribbed material gathered at each side as a piping. The back is open half way to the belt, and wholly on the sides, where it is fastened by bows of silk and black lace. The back is edged with a puff and guipure, the sash has five loops with a bow over them. The upper sleeve is of a wide coat shape, just shortened square to show the narrow close sleeve of pearl gray within, finished by puffs and gathered edges of striped velvet. The upper sleeve is puffed with silk and has a fall of black lace. This is one of the most recherche costumes of the season, refined in its colors and combinations.

To recapitulate the items of dress making gathered for the new patterns, the notable feature of dress is the Metternich cape, falling over the arm like a sleeve, but with square mantilla fronts and belted through the side seams. This, with the tight swallow tailed basque, and long navy jacket are the prevailing styles for over garments. Single skirts have ten or twelve inch flounces with the edge above cut into forms and lying just over the close kilt pleating, or the flounce is scant, and notched on the upper edge. Perfectly plain bias pieces scolloped on the lower or both edges and four inch folds headed by velvet or braid are used to trim a skirt in numbers instead of flounces. A handsome blondine or golden brown mohair for fall has an eight inch flounce in kilt or side pleats, with five bias folds, each four inches wide and three apart, covering the skirt like rows of flounces, headed by one row of inch velvet. When the bands are scolloped this plain trimming has a very good effect.

The wide collar, unless in velvet or lace, seems to have gone out of fashion, and a short Watteau fall, or a short piece drooping from the back of the neck takes its place. Street dresses are close in the throat, but not very high; sleeves are straight to the elbow, and rather loose, and finished by deep side pleating, with a close sleeve underneath, or the plain coat sleeve is relieved by various puffs and straps which do not take away its character. Shoulder and corsage knots will be worn, and very short sashes with five loops. The apron is looped at the side in pleats instead of being plain; of course this will not answer for stout figures. The skirt behind is partly open, and the panier is modified when worn at all. A graceful fashion loops the skirt to one side by a velvet band depending from the other hip, and buttoning to the underskirt. The panier effect is often given by the profuse loops of the sash. Upper skirts are much longer than they have been, and when tunic shaped are especially long on the sides.

Black alpaca, of the Buffalo brand, is almost the only kind that is heavy enough for wear in cool weather. The improved quality is strong, enduring in color, and sufficiently thick to hang in graceful folds. A dress of this material should be plainly made, with a ten-inch or deeper flounce, headed by a marquise ruche, or vandyked band of silk; the upper skirt open tunic-wise forming shawl points on the side, and puffed behind, but not very full, edged by narrow bands of silk and ruffles —or vandyked borders. With this wear, for cool weather, a black and white striped mantle, or a plaid scarf fastened on one shoulder. The light Victoria plaids, and the deep blue ones with narrow cross bas of dark green and bright thread of yellow, are most worn.

A novelty brought from Paris is a shawl suit, apparently made from not overfine light brown woolen shawls, with chocolate border and tassel fringe round the skirt and basque. The upper skirt is pointed shawl-wise deeply front and back; the waist is covered by a pointed cape, draping breast and back, and buttoning on the shoulder. Each point is bordered and fringed, and three rows of small brown buttons decorate each shoulder seam. The effect is very warm and substantial, and stylish besides. The shape is a model for any goods. The thick material of the skirt is not carried up to the belt, but faced on a yoke of black silk concealed by the upper skirt.

SHIRLEY DARE.

How to Pay the National Debt.

We quote an instructive passage from the address delivered to the farmers of Ulster county, N. Y., at the Fair in Kingston, by the Democratic Govenor, Hoffman. He said:

Our country, notwithstanding the great debt which rests upon it, cannot fail to grow rich and prosperous, if our people will be economical. The extravagance of the age in which we live, however, must be checked, or, with the corruption and demoralization which attend it, will come disaster and distress. There is no estate so large that a spendthrift cannot exhaust it. There is no people so powerful that extravagance and corruption cannot destroy them. Our exports of the great staples will bring neither national nor individual wealth, if they go only to pay for luxuries which enervate and corrupt. Far be it from me to deny any man or woman the enjoyment of anything which will contribute to his or her peace and happiness. But the nation is in debt twenty-five hundred millions of dollars—more than a thousand millions of which is held by the people of other lands. What the nation owes, the people owe, and what the people owe, each individual owes, for we are sureties and bondsmen for our country and for each other. Bondsmen, indeed! and who is so much a bondsman as the debtor? There is no way to get out of debt but one, either for nations or for individuals. A man cannot pay his debts by giving his note, nor can any Government pay its obligations by the issue of irredeemable paper. There is but one standard of value, and that has been fixed by the common consent of the world, and by that standard must all debtors ultimately be judged. As no quack remedies can remove deep seated diseases, so no ingeniously devised financial schemes can point out any but the one way to pay a nation's debt. When a man has violated the laws of health and finds his system broken, and his powers weakened, there is no medical specific which can save him. He must cease the practice of dissipation and folly. He must nurse his exhausted energies. He must economize his wasted strength. He must develop, as best he can, his physical powers.

So it is with our country, which has been called upon for profuse expenditures. It has within it elements of strength and the means to meet all its obligations, fully and fairly, if it will, but it must diminish its expenses as well as increase its revenues. It must labor in earnest and economize in earnest. If a farmer owes $1,000, the payment of which is secured by a mortgage, he can pay it if he will, by his labor and out of his land. If he neglect his farm; if he and his sons and daughters are extravagant and wasteful; if family discord destroy the peace of his home; if a reckless dissipation characterizes his life, he will add to his obligation and will not pay his debt. So with the nation. The labor of the country, and the great area of its territory, upon which the whole national indebtedness is a lien, can sustain the credit of the Government and pay its obligations. But if the people, who are the laborers, are extravagant and idle; if strife, discord and contention shall prevail among them; if passion and folly, instead of judgement and good sense, shall control them; if hatred, rather than love of one another and of their common country shall move them, then the national honor will be imperiled. I have read many learned essays on the question of "How to Pay the National Debt." When men ask me what financial theory I have, I answer, "Only one, and it is this: A union of people and of States; a hearty joining together of all sections, in the common work of re-establishment and restoration; industry, prudence, retrenchment and economy. Increase your earnings; diminish your expenditures. Save when you can and spend only when you must, and let the whole world see that you mean to pay your debts."

If the people are extravagant, the Government will be. The stream cannot rise higher than its source. The representative will not be better than those he represents. Other peoples have sunk under the crushing weight of individual and general extravagance and folly. Let us take warning by their examples, and in doing so avoid their fate.

WHILE James Robinson's circus was exhibiting at Franklin county, Kentucky, on Tuesday of last week, Capt. Harper, of "guerrilla" fame, and a companion, got into an affray with a man named Wright. The latter called them boisterous and threatened to have them arrested. The difficulty ended by the man who was with Harper putting his pistol against Wright's side and shooting him through, producing instant death. In the confusion which ensued Harper made his escape.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put itito work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since has received by thousands similar afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 34 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Once hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

PROPOSALS

FOR

Lumber, Bricks, Slate, Glass & Copper.

Sealed proposals will be received at this Arsenal until 10 A. M. on TUESDAY, October 5th, 1869, for furnishing 80,000 feet White Pine Flooring, best quality, 1⅛ by 6 inches by 12, 14, 16 and 18 feet long.

96,000 feet White Pine Sheathing Boards 1½ by 8 inches by 14, 16 and 18 feet long.

95,000 feet White Pine Joists 2½ by 5 inches, and 16 feet long.

20,000 feet White Pine Joists 2½ by 4 inches, and 16 feet long.

All lumber to be of good quality, entirely free from large or loose knots, sap, shakes, splits and rot, and all to be delivered at site of shops at this Arsenal before the close of navigation in 1869.

Proposals will be made per thousand feet, board measure, and will state whether the lumber will be delivered on cars or wagons.

SEALED PROPOSALS will also be received at this Arsenal until 10 A. M. on WEDNESDAY, October 20th, 1869, for furnishing the following materials:

About 1,100,000 Bricks for floor arches.

All bricks must be of the best quality, sound and well burnt. Samples will be furnished with the bids.

Proposals will be made per thousand bricks, delivered at site of shops, at this Arsenal, and will state whether on cars or wagons. Delivery to commence by 1st of May, 1870, and all to be delivered before August 1st, 1870.

ALSO, for furnishing and putting on in mortar with copper nails, about 600 squares (of 100 square feet) ROOF SLATING.

The slate must be of the best quality. Samples of different sizes and varieties will be furnished and separate proposals made for each.

Proposals will be made per square (of 100 square feet) of slating exposed when put on the roof, no extra allowance to be made for edges or waste in cutting. The United States to furnish no labor and no material, excepting sand and lime for the mortar.

The roof to be laid so that less than one-third of the length of each slate shall be exposed to the weather, and all laid within sixty days after the roof shall have been made ready for slating.

ALSO FOR GLASS.

800 lights 24? by 13½ inches.

1,400 lights 26½ by 13½ inches.

1,900 lights 26½ by 13½ inches.

350 lights 27½ by 13½ inches.

200 lights 25 by 13½ inches.

The glass to be of best quality of window glass, double thickness, clear, out of wind, free from blisters, waves and stains. Samples will be furnished with the proposals.

Separate proposals will be made per 100 lights of each variety, delivered in cars at the site of shops at Rock Island Arsenal, all to be delivered before May 1st, 1870.

ALSO, FOR COPPER GUTTERS AND SPOUTING.

About 1,370 lineal feet of Gutters made of sheets, 4 feet wide.

About 580 lineal feet of Valley Gutters, made of sheets 3 feet 6 inches wide.

About 940 lineal feet of Ridge Cover made of sheets 2 feet wide.

About 760 lineal feet of slushings for gables made of sheets 1 foot 8 inches wide.

About 725 lineal feet of Down Spouts 4 inches in diameter.

The copper to be of the best quality, No. 18 (or 2x5 lbs. per square foot) and to be made up and placed in position in the manner to be prescribed by the Commanding Officer of Rock Island Arsenal. The work to commence within 10 days after notification that the roof is made ready. Proposals will be made per lineal foot of each variety. The United States to furnish no labor or material.

Persons desirous to make proposals for these materials can see all the drawings and obtain all necessary information by applying at this Arsenal.

The United States reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or parts of bids, not deemed satisfactory, and to duplicate within one year any contract that may be made in conformity with this advertisement.

All proposals will be made in duplicate and in detail, addressed to the Commanding Officer, Rock Island Arsenal, and endorsed

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Remember the meeting to-night at City Hall.

The Second Ward Marching Corps will meet at headquarters, Wilkins Hall, this evening, at seven o'clock sharp, for parade. Let every member attend.

Board of Health.—A regular meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday in the Health office, Fourth avenue. No business of importance was transacted.

Meeting of Presbytery.—The Reformed Presbytery of Pittsburgh holds its regular semi-annual meeting to-day, at Beulah Church, near West Middlesex, Mercer county.

Runaway.—A horse attached to a light buggy, in which Samuel Hall was riding, ran away on Third avenue yesterday evening and upset the buggy, throwing Mr. H. out and injuring him severely.

Room for Rent.—A furnished room, fronting on Wylie street, will be let to one or two gentlemen with or without board. The location is the most desirable on this street. Reference required. Call at No. 94 Wylie street for particulars. 3

Opening Exercises.—The opening exercises of the United Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Allegheny, took place in Dr. Clarke's Church, Stockton avenue. Rev. Joseph T. Cooper, D. D., of Philadelphia, delivered an able and eloquent address.

Returned.—General G. W. Cass and Col. Scott returned last evening from their trip to the north on the line of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad The visit was highly satisfactory. Col. Scott and his Secretary, Captain Green, are stopping at the Union Depot Hotel. They leave to-day for Philadelphia.

Serious Accident.

A Mr. Acheson, while engaged in unloading lumber from a wagon about four o'clock P. M., yesterday, met with a serious accident, resulting in the loss of his team. His wagon was standing on the side of the Allgheny Valley Railroad track, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, when a coal train backed down and crushed one of the horses to death, turned the wagon over and threw Mr. Acheson and the remaining horse in the cellar. Mr. A. was but slightly injured, but the horse it is thought, will never be fit for service.

Recent Promotions.

Mr. A. W. Browning, conductor of the Erie Express on the P. Ft. W. & C. R. R., has been promoted to the office of Assistant Ticket Agent at the Union Depot. Mr. Browning, it will be remembered, was wounded severely by the explosion of arms in the armory, corner of Penn and Wayne streets, some time since, and the running of a train was too great a tax on his impaired physical energies. In due consideration of his faithful services, the company have promoted a most worthy officer and given him a position which he can fill with greater ease.

Mr. G. Miller, who has had charge for some time of a freight train, has been deservedly rewarded with a promotion to the position of conductor of a passenger train, and is now running the Erie Express, vice Mr. Browning, appointed as above. Mr. Miller has every essential qualification necessary for the fulfillment of his present position, and will, no doubt, discharge its duties with as much satisfaction to all concerned as he did those of the one he previously held.

Temperance and Reform Meeting.

The friends of Temperance and Reform held a Mass Meeting in City Hall last evening. The audience was quite respectable, and was called to order about eight o'clock by Mr. J. A. Carothers. Mr. T. H. Nevin was elected Chairman, with a large number of respectable gentlemen as Vice Presidents and Secretaries.

Mr. T. H. Nevin, on taking the chair, returned thanks for the honor conferred. He referred to the progress of the temperance cause and the great Republican party. He was a Republican and would vote the ticket of that party with one exception. He had nothing personally against the Republican nominee for Commissioner, but he thought he was not the man for the position. A man of firmness and determination was needed. Such a man was Isaiah Dickey.

Rev. Dr. H. Miller was then introduced and addressed the meeting. He was not the engineer of the train, but by education and his profession he was identified with the Reform movement. He would assist in contributing fuel to keep up the steam. In 1867 alcoholic liquors cost one hundred and fifty millions. Alcoholic liquors then cost each year at the rate of fifty dollars for every man, woman and child in the State. They had too many licensed houses already. There were no less than eleven hundred and twenty-nine. They should do right though the heavens should fall—do right even if they should be defeated.

David Kirk, Esq., then addressed the meeting. The office of Commissioner was an important one, as the Commissioners were entrusted with a large amount of public money. Then they were intrusted with the power to grant licenses—a power superior to the Judges on the bench—and from their decision there was no appeal. One hundred and twenty licenses had been granted in one district in twenty squares—one for every twenty voters in the district. No one pretended that these were necessary for the accommodation of strangers or travelers. No attention is paid to remonstrances. People are discouraged by the power of the Court from presenting remonstrances. No license has ever been rescinded, which could be done for many causes, which are daily found to exist.

Mr. Dickey did not want the office, as he told him a few days since, and did not attend the meetings lest he might be pressed to give pledges to some men to grant licenses or listen to remonstrances. Then it is a great privilege to be permitted once in one's lifetime to vote for a man that did not want office (considerable merriment.) The prospects of success he thought were glorious. He asked for six thousand majority for Isaiah Dickey.

Rev. S. Y. Kennedy was the next speaker. He desired to glance at a few things omitted by the speakers who preceded him. The Temperance Reform movement was no flank movement, as it had been charged, in favor of the Democratic party. They would not allow themselves ta be deceived this time, for by the strength of their strong arms, their determined wills and the great God they would elect Mr. Dickey over all other candidates. The Democratic party held power in the country by keeping up the cry, "Our party right or wrong." But that has been abandoned. They could only succeed by adhering to the right.

Rev. Mr. McCoombs, of Philadelphia, was the last speaker. His remarks were listened to attegtively.

THE O'CONNOR-TACK CASE.

A Few Pertinent Facts Adduced Before Judge Strong and on Record in the Supreme Court—Spicy Letters and Dispatches Which Will Repay Perusal and Which Develop Some of the Hitherto Unpublished History of the Important Case.

We have just received a copy of the able argument of Thos. Bradford Dwight, Esq., in the O'Connor-Tack case, before Hon. William Strong, appointed as Referee by the Supreme Court. It is a large sized paper book of two hundred and fourteen pages, and is thoroughly searching, exhibiting the history of the case together with that of business transactions between the plaintiff and defendants previous to the commencement of the suit. We have selected at random a few of the telegrams and letters, of the many that were in evidence before the Referee, which exhibit the animus of Mr. O'Connor in following the prosecution—or persecution, perhaps, would be the better word.

COMBINATIONS ANG RINGS GOOD THINGS.

The following correspondence will develop the fact that Mr. O'Connor had at one time no holy horror about "combinations and rings," and was not unacquainted with the terms thereof. Here is what he wrote "confidentially" to Mr. Theo. E. Tack on May 23d, 1867, just three months before the suit was commenced:

(Confidential.)

PITTSBURGH, May 23, 1867.

THEO. E. TACK, Esq.

My Dear Sir: Our good friend Mr. Finney has been spoken to relative to going into a combination to make "standard white oil" short for immediate delivery. You understand it fully—to "corner" it by calling for large lots of oil now subject to call, and of course, if necessary, purchasing all the S. W. in the market. If this can be done I suppose a good thing can be made. If unsuccessful the sellers would have an "elephant" on hand and meet heavy losses. He asked me what to do. I told him I would, in entire confidence, consult you. You have and can form a good idea of the stock of S. W. really on hand, the amount going forward and to go—the real market and whether or not you would advise him to become a member of such a "ring"—of course if successful, the result of advancing prices would be temporary to enable "SETTLEMENTS AND THE SQUEEZE."

Please say to me what you think of it honestly and unbosomed as between ourselves? If you think necessary, telegraph—I feel you will not think it troublesome to attend to this, as I feel a great interest in Mr. Finney and would be glad to aid him.

Yours Very Truly,

Signed, JAMES O'CONNOR.

[Mr. Tack said to him honestly, as requested, that he would advise him (Mr. O'C.) against entering any such combinations.]

RINGS NOT SUCH GOOD THINGS AFTER ALL.

The mind of Mr. O'Connor must have undergone a material change when Summer vanished and Winter made its appearance, for in December of the same year he found sympathy for the "toiling millions," as he telegraphed thus to Mr. Daniel O'Neill, Managing Editor of the Dispatch:

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16, 1867.

To D. O'NEILL, Pittsburgh Daily Dispatch, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Yes. I authorized you to publish—my cashier, Johnston, will pay you. As the case is of great public importance, as well as large interest to me, I request Editorial comments.

If paid confidential agents can betray their trust and combine against and defraud their employer, then all society and business becomes shaken to its base—also if men can conspire and combine artificially to elevate an article used by the toiling millions of people, and thus tamper with and destroy legitimate trade and commerce, then all reliance on business is destroyed, and every man is liable to be ruined by illegal conspiracies, combinations and artificial rings, concocted and attempted to be carried out by men who thus rob the community.

It is the duty of every citizen and every business man to "stamp out of existence all such thieves."

I will be successful in every branch of my suits and I deserve the thanks of the public. Signed,

JAMES O'CONNOR.

A few days after Mr. O'Neill was telegraphed to by Mr. O'Connor, in the following more emphatic than charitable language, and, we may say, the instructions contained therein were pretty faithfully carried out by the journal addressed, as the public are well aware:

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20, 1867.

D. O'NEILL, Pittsburgh Daily Dispatch, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Yes; publish the continuation of testimony and speech of prosecution. Give the Tacks hell editorially. They are convicted by their own telegrams, which amount to a written confession of guilt in their own hand writing. Tacks' case is utterly hopeless, and they will certainly be held, tried, convicted and punished.

JAMES O'CONNOR.

WHO RUNS THE COMMONWEALTH MACHINERY?

Our space is too limited to publish many more of the spicy specimens of Mr. O'Connor's letters and telegrams, but in order to show that outsiders do some times run the machinery of the Commonwealth we herewith annex a small quantity of interesting reading matter taken from the very large budget of items of similar character before us, and ask for it the careful persnal and consideration of the public.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11, 1868.

THOS. M. MARSHALL, Esq. Pittsburgh—Judge Ludlow decided remanding Tacks to Custody of Sheriff and denying writ of Habeas. His opinion is very strong and learnedly pointed. I have the Tacks fast forever. If Theodore is not here Monday, officer will bring him on. Glory to God that rascality and fraud is forever defeated and punished.

JAMES O'CONNOR,

PITTSBURGH, February 2, 1868

GENERAL CHARLES H. T. COLLIS, Attorney at Law; 208 West Washington Square, Philadelphia.—Letter received. Frank alias Francis Tack—must be inserted in Notice and in indictment. Please see Cassidy is notified by Colonel Mann, before Grand Jury is challenged. The copy of notice you sent omits his name. Correct oversight immediately as Grand Jury meet Monday.

JAMES O'CONNOR.

[Here was an anxiety shown to nave Mr. Frank Tack included in the indictment, as he was a valuable witness for his brother.]

PHILADEPHIA, Feb. 12, 1868.

HON. THOMAS M. MARSHALL, Attorney at Law, Pittsburgh:

Please forward me immediately strong letter to Governor, I will deliver it personally. Did you see third party and what are your impressions.

Answer. JAMES O'CONNOR,
(Continental.)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15, 1868.

HON. THOS. M. MARSHALL, Pittsburgh:

It is stated a pardon has been asked for from the Governor. Colonel Mann has telegraphed Harrisburg. Please telegraph Governor Geary fully, at my expense, also Errett, Graham and others.

It is their only loop hole. I cannot leave as Grand Jury meets Monday morning. JAMES O'CONNOR,

Answer. Continental, Room 24.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3, 1868.

HON. THOS. M. MARSHALL, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Col. W. B. Mann says no trouble whatever as to True Bill or as to conviction. The idea was to expedite getting the money. I understand your and Brown's opinion. Will act advisedly.

JAMES O'CONNOR,
Continental.

We conclude our meagre selections from the evidence submitted to the Referee with the following mysteriously worded telegrams which no comment of ours can render more clear and intelligible to the reader:

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15, 1867.

Messrs. WIGHTMAN & ANDERSON, Pittsburgh, Pa.—If your Mr. Wightman comes here and does what is required, a friend of mine will cash note for two thousand dollars.

JAMES O'CONNOR,
Continental Hotel.

PHILADELPHIA, October 11, 1867.

BREWER, BURKE & Co., Duquesne Way, Pittsburgh, Pa.:—Morse is not disposed to do everything necessary. Please telegraph him to act as I request. A friend will cash Note sixty days (two thousand). Reply if desired. J. O'C.

Mr. Moore was the representative of the house of Brewer, Burke & Co., in Philadelphia.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Meeting of the Republican County Committee and Members of Vigilance—Important and Interesting Business.

The Republican County Executive Committee and members of Vigilance Committees of the various election districts of the county held a meeting yesterday at City Hall. After some remarks in reference to registration, &c., B. F. Lucas, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Registration, being called upon, made the following report:

To the Republican County Committee of Allegheny County:

The Committee on Registration, to which was referred the subject of a circular letter to be addressed to the several Boards of Election officers throughout the county, respectfully beg leave to report.

Your Committee has learned that in some of the districts the Assessors have entered upon the assessment and registration lists the names of persons of foreign birth, and who are known to the election officers not to have been naturalized, the question has been asked of your Committee by some of the election officers whether, in the absence of a challenge by any other elector, to object to or reject such vote.

In view of such inquiries, your Committee has concluded to report for the information of election officers the following

CIRCULAR:

The object of the act of assembly proves as "the registration law" was in the preservation of the purity of elections. No reflecting man can doubt, that, if the law be faithfully observed in letter and spirit, the result will be to preserve the purity of elections. This result is of infinitely greater importance to the people than any mere temporary party triumph; first because it aids in cultivating a habit of observing the laws of the land; and second because pure elections will secure a fair and honest expression of the will of the majority of the people as to who shall administer their public affairs.

In securing a fair and honest expression of the will of the people, the board of election officers are, upon the day of election, in an eminent sense the guardians of the people. They are sworn officers, and it is their duty to stand between the people and the frauds that may be attempted to be practiced by the unscrupulous and dishonest.

If any person votes or attempts to vote knowing himself not to be a legal voter, he is guilty of an offence against the criminal law of the commonwealth. If an election officer receives the vote of any person whom he knows not to be a legal voter, whether the name of such person be found upon the list of voters or not, he too is guilty of a criminal offence.

It is therefore the duty of the election officers on the day of election to refuse the votes of all persons whom they know not to be legal voters, either from not being naturalized or not being residents of the district or from any other disqualification known to the laws.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

B. F. LUCAS, Chairman.

Maj. Russell Errett made some remarks on the preparation of tickets, stating that there should be great care taken that all are right, particularly the heading and the seperation of them. He stated that he understood that in some districts two inspectors were nominated and to be elected, which is clearly against the law. After some discussion, on motion of Col. Alex. Hilands, a committee was appointed on tickets, as follows: W. B. Hunter, Jacob F. Slagle and N. P. Reed.

THE CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER.

Maj. Errett then called up annother matter of importance, which he considered demanded the attention and action of the Committee. He referred to Chauncey Bostwick, Esq., Republican candidate for County Commissioner, who has been and is being abused beyond all decency. Mr. Bostwick is attacked in all the districts by speakers for the Temperance and Reform party, called a drunkard, and it is proclaimed everywhere that his nomination by the Republican Convention was not regular or proper. The speaker thought it about time for the County Committee to pronounce on these falsehoods, so that there could be no doubt in the mind of any one. Major Errett said he had known Chauncey Bostwick for years, and he was happy to say that he was not a drunkard; that he was the regular nominee of the Republican party, and that he was a man in every way qualified for the position, honest, careful and upright. Mr. Bostwick was the best Coroner we ever had in this county, before or since, and he would make a good Commissioner. The speaker continued at some length, and warmly urged that Mr. Bostwick be strongly supported and not left to fight alone.

Other members of the Committee spoke on the subject, and on motion of Major Negley, seconded by others, Messrs. T. M. Msrshal, James L. Graham and Major F. C. Negley were appointed a committee to prepare an address to Republican voters.

The Chairman referred to the publication of lists of Temperance and Reform "vigilance committees," and he noticed names of persons there from whom he would like to hear.

A gentleman from Pine township arose and stated that quite a number of names from his district were published without authority, bnt that they would vote for Bostwick. (Applause.)

Mr. H. W. Oliver, of the County Committee, made some remarks upon the action of the Committee in reference to the matter, and then offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Committee presents the name of Chauncey Bostwick as candidate for County Commissioner, and that we pronounce any allegation that his nomination was falsely or fradulently obtained as untrue and without foundation.

Questions were asked touching registration, and discussed, and other unimportant business transacted, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

TUESDAY, October 5.—In the case of the Commonwealth ex rel William Martin vs. The Trustees of the Plum Creek Church, the jury failed to agree, and were discharged.

Joseph Paul vs. John Barton. Action to recover fee. The plaintiff is an attorney at law in Cleveland, and the defendant practices law in this city. It appears that the defendant, Barton, sent an exemplification of record of a judgment in this Court to plaintiff for collection, and plaintiff brings this action to recover fee for services rendered. The Court held that defendant, being attorney in the case, was not personally liable for the fee, but that his client was the proper person from whom to recover. A judgment of non suit was entered against plaintiff, and the jury discharged.

W. H. Lemon vs. Benjamin Coursin. Action for rent. On trial.

In the matter of viewers appointed to assess damages on the Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad, R. H. Davis, Harvey Childs and John Holmes were excused, and Messrs. Alex. Gordon, Richard Hays and Theodore H. Nevin appointed in their place and stead.

Oyer and Terminer—Judge Mellon.

In the Oyer and Terminer Court, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Samuel G. Pilgrim, Samuel Gibson and Samuel Matthews, indicted for burglary, was next taken up.

The defendants were charged with burglariously entering the clothing store of Christian Roth, No. 521 Penn street, on the night of the 14th and 15th of September, and taking therefrom a quantity of clothing. Officers Dressler and Moon, of the Mayor's police, were notified of the burglary and worked up the case, arresting the defendants and finding a part of the stolen goods in their possession. Matthews and Gibson entered a plea of guilty, and Pilgrim plead not guilty. The Court assigned J. C. McCarthy, Esq., to defend him. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. The Court sentenced the defendant to the Western Penitentiary for a period of three years.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Samuel G. Pilgrim and Samuel Matthew, indicted for burglary. It was alleged that the accused burglariously entered the house of Samuel Warren, No. 216 Wylie street, on the night of September 17th, 1869, and stole several articles, among which were a key and a dirk knife, both of which were found in the possession of the defendants. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. The sentence of the Court was that the defendants undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a term of two years, this sentence to take effect at the expiration of the sentence in the former case.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Samuel Pilgrim, Samuel Matthews and Samuel Gibson, indicted for felonious breaking and entering the stove store of Mr. Hartung, Allegheny city, and stealing about $80 werth of boots and shoes. Some of the stolen goods were found in the posession of the defendants when arrested. The jury without leaving the box returned a verdict of guilty as to Matthews and Gibson, and not guilty as to Pilgrim. Sentenced to undergo an imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of two years, the sentence to take effect after the expiration of the preceding one.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

TUESDAY, October 5.—The cases of W. B. Ross vs. Cooper, Brooks and Ross, and McCausland vs. Brooks, reported yesterday, were resumed and concluded. The jury returned a verdict for the defendants in both cases.

Elizabeth McCallum vs. Ellen Thomas. Action to recover for services rendered as a domestic. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $31.95.

Benjamin Mangold vs. John Huckenstein. Action to recover for work and labor done. Jury out.

An attachment was issued for Andrew Burns, of the Eighth ward, a defaulting juror, and a fine of $20 imposed.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE.

Alleged Murder in Elizabeth Township—The Perpetrator in Jail.

William O'Rourke was committed to jail yesterday on a charge of murder. It is alleged that O'Rourke and Peter Fish, both of whom worked at O'Neil's Coal Works, in Elizabeth township, started to Mr. A. Large's last Saturday evening to have themselves registered, and before returning they each procured a can of whiskey. Late at night O'Rourke returned alone considerably under the influence of liquor, and when asked where Fish was, replied that he left him about a half mile from the works, and had not seen him since. Some of Fish's friends suspecting that there had been foul play from O'Rourke's manner, started in search of Fish, and found his body near where O'Rourke said he had left him. The body was lying face downwards with the head turned to one side, and from appearances life had been extinct several hours. There was a bruise on the forehead, such as would be made by striking with a stone, and marks of fingers on his throat. Information was made before Justice Lee, by Paxton C. Fish, a brother of the deceased, charging O'Rourke with murder, and he was arrested and committed to jail. The Justice then empannelled a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest on the body, which had not been concluded at last accounts.

An Old Favorite in a New Place.

When a merchant removes from an old to a new stand the press is apt to notify the public of the change. It is of equal importance to families to be informed of a similar change when a well known and popular butcher removes to a new and more eligible stand. Mr. J. F. Beilstein, one of our most enterprising and accommodating butchers, has by his care to be always prepared with just the cuts and quality of beef, mutton, veil, &c., that suited his customers, desires now to inform said customers that for their better accommodation and to provide for his increasing custom, he has purchased from Peter Shatz his stand, No. 85, in the Pittsburgh Market, east side, where, on and after the 6th inst., he will be prepared better than ever to serve his customers, old and new. Mr. Beilstein's business has grown up within a few years to its present magnitude, and his custom is made up largely of our best families in both cities, owing mainly to two important characteristics, which he constantly exemplifies, viz: He will buy or slaughter none but select animals free from disease, and carefully fatted; by this he deserves patronage, and to secure what he so well deserves, both he and his assistants wait promptly and politely on all comers. We might add that Mr. Beilstein thinks it worth while through the press to let the community know, from time to time, where and from whom they may depend on finding at all times the very best qualities of the various meats. That his customers may have confidence in the truth of these facts, it is only necessary to say that Mr. Beilsetin never slaughters animals just taken from the stock cars, nor such as have just finished a journey, but only such as he has owned and kept long enough to be sure that their flesh is neither diseased nor heated by travel. House keepers will appreciate the great importance of his circumspection in these important particulars, and may therefore depend on the very choicest of wholesome meats by dealing with Mr. Beilstein, at his stand, whether in the Pittsburgh or Allegheny market.

Personal.

The grand Convocation of Presbyterians in this city has attracted a large number of distinguished ministers and lawyers, among whom are several authors of note. Prominent among the authors who are expected to speak during the meeting is Mr. Coffin, ("Carleton") the author of that charming work, entitled: "Our New Way Round the World." This work, though but recently published, has attained a wide spread popularity. Just at this time it is opportune, as the opening of the Pacific Railroad furnishes pleasant facilities for travelers. During Mr. Coffin's journeys he mingled freely among the missionaries, especially in India and China, and has endeavored faithfully to represent their work in a proper spirit, and unlike some travelers who seek to throw discredit upon Missionary efforts. This excellent spirit of Mr. Coffin should be kept in view. The work is an admirable one, and contains information of signal value to all who intend to travel, and also gives an intelligent view of the country to those who are unable to enjoy the luxury of such a trip.

Among the visitors we also notice Mr. H. Baker, the accomplished Managing Editor of the Detroit Tribune and Secretary of the Western Associated Press. He is the guest of Charles J. Clarke, Esq.

An Elegant Place.

To-day Miersch's new Confectionery Establishment, No. 24 Sixth street will be thrown open for the first time since their removal from the old stand. The new establishment consists of a large general salesroom on the first floor, an elegant salon in the second and in the rear, separate from all, the bakery and confectionary department where the goods are all prepared thus removing all smell and noise from the front building. In point of finish the new house is a high credit to the taste and liberality of the Messrs. Miersch. The store is very elegantly fitted up with carved shelving and counters, handsome show-cases, and variegated marble floor. The saloon, whether in the new furniture, the costly brussels carpet, the marble topped stands, the elegant grand square piano, or the profusion of beautiful painting, and other works of art with which it is furnished, cannot be excelled in the city.

Messrs. F. A. Miersch & Bros. are practical confectioners, having been engaged in the business nineteen years on the same street. A sure evidence of their ability is seen in the prosperity manifested by their new quarters. With such an attractive establishment, they cannot fail in the future to enjoy a still greater measure of prosperity, which their enterprise eminently deserves.

Chapped Hands, face and all roughness of the skin, certainly cured by using the Juniper Tar Soap, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It surpasses all other remedies as it will prevent roughness of the skin if used during cold weather. It is easily applied, avoiding all the trouble of the greasy compounds now in use. It can be used by ladies with the most tender skin, without irritation or pain, making it soft and clear. Sold by the druggists generally. wT
